Barry Lowers Sights in New Hampshire Poll

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater has lowered his New Hampshire sights but is confident he will capture the GOP presidential nomination if he can win the June 2 California primary.

The Arizona, who speaks tonight at a fund raising dinner in Palm Beach, Fla., said in an interview he will be satisfied if he gets 35 per cent of the popular vote and 7 of the 14 convention delegates to be chosen in the March 10 New Hampshire primary.

Less than a week ago in New Hampshire, Goldwater told reporters he thought he would capture nearly 50 per cent of the vote there.

Goldwater said he thinks Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, may make a creditable showing as a darkhorse write-in candidate in the state's voting. New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller reportedly tried without success to get Lodge to take himself out of consideration.

Even with a good showing in New Hampshire, Goldwater said he doesn't think Lodge could get any substantial support outside New England.

On a nationwide basis Goldwater viewed his campaign as proceeding satisfactorily. He said that if he beats Rockefeller in California, as he fully expects to do, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon "is the man I'm going to have to run against" at the GOP convention in San Francisco.

If it should develop that he can't get the presidential nomination—and he remains confident he will—Goldwater observed he would have to "flip a nickel" to decide whether he would give his backing to Nixon or to Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton.

Akron CD Drugs Found Missing

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Federal agents were expected to enter an investigation today of the alleged theft of 2,000 phenobarbital pills from Civil Defense disaster supplies at the University of Akron.

A university spokesman said a maintenance worker discovered the pills were missing two weeks ago after finding an empty carton in a tunnel area where the narcotics are stored.

The spokesman said the pills apparently were taken from a tunnel connecting Memorial and Buchtel halls. They are stored openly there in accordance with Civil Defense specifications, the spokesman said.

Jetliner Debris Recovery Is Delayed by Dense Fog

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A dense fog hung over Lake Pontchartrain today, delaying a search by boats and divers for the remains of an Eastern Airlines jetliner that crashed into the lake.

All 58 persons aboard perished when the four-engine DC8 plummeted into the mammoth lake at a spot about 20 miles north of New Orleans.

The jetliner, bound from Mexico to New York, took off at 2:01 a.m. Tuesday and was climbing normally when it suddenly vanished from control radar screens. Captain William Zeng never spoke a word of warning or trouble and investigators have divulged no clues as to what went wrong.

Town Banned On Road to Waterworks

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP)—Two property owners can barricade a road on their land to stop the Mineral City Water Department from reaching its water wells and pumping station for maintenance purposes, a Common Pleas Court has ruled.

The decision Tuesday by Judge Raymond Rice denied an injunction sought by village officials against Charles and Mary Mailet, the property owners, and removal of the barriers.

Water department employees can still reach the wells and pumping station on foot by walking a mile around the Mailet property. Trucks and maintenance, however, will be barred from the property.

A dispute arose over a 1950 agreement between the village and William Brinkman, who then owned the property between the wells and Ohio 8. The state route was the only road close to the wells and pumping station.

The Mailets bought the property from Brinkman in July 1953 and said they were not told of the agreement for use of the road. Last September the Mailets barricaded the road after they saw village water department trucks using it. They said they considered the land private.

Although the agreement with Brinkman was made in 1950, the judge ruled, it was not filed in the Tuscarawas County recorder's office until Nov. 6, 1962.

Therefore, the agreement did not exist until Nov. 6, 1962, and thus could not become legal because Brinkman no longer owned the property, the judge said.

Vertical Takeoff Plane Perfected

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—An experimental two-man airplane which takes off and lands like a helicopter and flies at jet speeds will be delivered to the Army next week for testing at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

The plane called "vertical and short takeoff and landing aircraft" was rolled out at Ryan Aeronautical Company's plant Tuesday.

A Ryan spokesman said it will fly at speeds up to 600 miles per hour and has a range of more than 1,000 nautical miles.

Large fans mounted in the wings, driven by jet exhaust, provide lift for takeoffs and support the craft for helicopter-like hovering.

said at mid-morning that search operations had been stalled completely by the fog shrouding the lake. He said: "The fog is so thick one boat can't see."

A Coast Guard boat snagged something big near the north shore of the lake, which is about 30 miles in diameter, but darkness prevented divers from further investigation.

The Coast Guard said the object might be a main part of the fuselage.

Chances of finding any large part, which could have trapped most of the bodies, seemed remote after reports indicating the airliner exploded. Several persons at Mandeville, on the north shore of the lake and about 10 miles from the apparent crash area, reported hearing an explosion noise near the time the craft disappeared from contact.

One woman said she thought she heard thunder but "there was no rolling after-effect. It was just cut off short."

A young woman said she heard what "sounded like a gun."

A worker on a dredge anchored in the lake said he saw a "bunch of green fire" near the 27-mile long Lake Pontchartrain Causeway, and radioed the Coast Guard.

Unions Ready To Load Grain For Russia

WASHINGTON (AP)—Waterfront unions are ready to resume loading ships with U.S. wheat for the Soviet Union by the end of the week after ending a 10-day boycott.

The White House announced late Tuesday that the unions had agreed to load the wheat after President Johnson pledged that—in all future grain deals with the Soviet Union—half of the cargo would be carried in U.S. ships.

The late President John F. Kennedy had agreed to ship half of the grain in American ships when the sales were arranged last fall. But the way was left open then to waive the requirement.

The 50-50 agreement will not cover the sale of 1 million tons of wheat to the Soviet Union by the Continental Grain Co., because final details of that deal have already been worked out.

Three unions—the International Longshoremen's Association, the National Maritime Union and the Seafarers' International Union—started the boycott after the U.S. Maritime Administration agreed to let Continental ship 62 per cent of the wheat in non-American ships.

In Houston, Tex., where the freighters Inguil and Umran have been idled by the boycott, the agent for the Inguil said he was certain it would be loaded this week, after the Umran is filled. Both are to carry Continental wheat.

Cyprus Crisis Gets Explosive New Issue

Greek Forces Are Increased By President

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Plans by President Makarios to increase his Greek Cypriot security force and disarm all irregulars on Cyprus has injected an explosive new issue into the crisis in the eastern Mediterranean.

The Greek Cypriot president said his order Tuesday to create a special 5,000-man police force was designed "not only for the island's security and return to normality, but also to face any other unpleasant situation."

In a move obviously aimed at the Turkish Cypriot minority opposing his Greek Cypriot regime, Makarios said any Cypriot carrying arms illegally would be disarmed and anyone attempting to import arms "will be prosecuted."

Turkish Cypriots immediately challenged the constitutionality of the order, which would raise the legal Greek Cypriot armed strength to nearly 7,000 men, about the size of the British peacekeeping force on Cyprus. The Turkish Cypriots said that under the constitution the special force would have to be made up of 60 per cent Greek Cypriots and 40 per cent Turkish Cypriots.

Greek Cypriot officials said Turkish Cypriots would be welcome to join the force if they swear allegiance to the Makarios government and promise to defend the island's independence and territorial integrity.

Maj. Gen. R. M. Carver, commander of the British peacekeeping force, termed Makarios' order "a very clever document." He said it could be interpreted as a move to deprive persons in control of private armed forces of power, or a move to immobilize the Turkish Cypriot police by disarming everyone.

Since fighting broke out between Greek and Turkish Cypriots in December, thousands of civilians have armed to form vigilante groups.

The Greek Cypriots outnumber the Turkish faction 4 to 1, and their armed irregulars have been estimated to number as many as 30,000 men and women. The legal armed strength of the Greek Cypriots numbers 1,200 police and 270 army troops.

Makarios recently admitted his government has been importing arms "to safeguard the territorial integrity of the island in face of threats of a Turkish invasion."

Key Provisions Detailed In New Tax Relief Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The heart of the new tax cut bill is an across-the-board slash in rates, both for individuals and corporations.

The present schedule, for individuals, of 20 to 91 per cent goes to 16 to 77 per cent on income received this year. For 1965 income and thereafter the rates will be 14 to 70 per cent.

Roughly reflecting the reduction, withholding from wages and salaries will drop from 18 to 14 per cent beginning a week after the bill is signed.

For corporations the present 52 per cent rate is cut to 50 per cent on all 1964 income and 48 per cent thereafter. Further benefiting small businesses is a switch in normal and surtax rates. Now 30 per cent normal and 22 per cent surtax, they change in 1965 to 22 per cent normal, 26 per cent surtax.

The individual tax cuts are estimated by the Treasury as close to 19 per cent on the average. But taxpayers with very small and very large taxable incomes get relatively more relief than those in the middle. The steep top rates are cut proportionately more than others and, at the other end of the scale, a special new minimum standard deduction helps low-income families.

Instead of taking a standard deduction of 10 per cent of gross income, up to $1,000 deduction, a taxpayer may, if it is to his advantage, deduct instead $300 for himself and $100 for each exemption after his own, up to $1,000.

There are many other provisions in the long bill, some favorable to taxpayers, some bringing more money into the Treasury. Two that will affect many taxpayers are:

—Deductions for state and local taxes are somewhat trimmed. Taxpayers may continue to deduct state and local income real estate, general sales and gasoline taxes. But state and local liquor, cigarette taxes, auto tag and drivers license fees and a variety of state excise taxes are no longer deductible.

—The rules are changed on taxation of stock dividends. The 4 per cent credit which taxpayers now are allowed to subtract directly from taxes due is cut to 2 per cent on 1964 stock dividends income and eliminated entirely next year. But the amount of dividends which may be deducted before computing the tax is doubled, so that the new figure is $100 for a single person, $200 for a married couple.

None of the new rules apply to the personal income tax returns Americans must file by April 15 of this year. These returns are on 1963 income. The tax bill is retroactive to Jan. 1, 1964.

Bobby Baker's Secretary Silent before Probers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Carole Tyler, Bobby Baker's attractive secretary, refused today to answer questions about her part in the former Senate aide's get-rich-quick deals.

"On the advice of my attorney," she said, "I refuse to answer any questions that may be propounded to me by members or employees of this committee other than those which relate to my name and identification as the person named in said subpoena."

In a statement read at the start of the Senate Rules Committee hearings, the 24-year-old former secretary based her refusal on constitutional grounds.

She followed Baker by one day on the witness stand before a standing-room only crowd and live television cameras in the marble-columned Senate caucus room.

Like Baker, she refused to answer questions on grounds of possible self-incrimination, and also invasion of privacy.

The lithe 23-year-old was described by Baker as his cousin when he moved her into a swank four-bedroom townhouse where she still lives. She now works in Baker's law office.

The Rules Committee which Tuesday heard Baker refuse more than 100 times to answer questions put off a decision whether to recommend he be cited for contempt of Congress, punishable by a year's imprisonment, a $1,000 fine, or both.

The investigators peppered the former Senate aide with questions on topics ranging from the gift of a hi-fi set to President Johnson to whether Baker had any dealings with a convicted white slaver.

Baker, who resigned Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, cited constitutional grounds, including the Fifth Amendment, for his refusal to answer.

He also hit at the Senate Rules Committee's probe as a "legal jungle" and an unlawful "legislative trial."

Early March Paychecks To Be Larger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The historic tax cut bill may be law by nightfall.

The Senate completed congressional action on the measure early this afternoon and thus provided an average 19 per cent reduction for individual income taxes.

The rollcall vote on passage was 74-19.

The White House said President Johnson would sign the $11.5-billion measure "at the earliest possible opportunity," possibly later today and certainly before he leaves for Florida at noon Thursday.

Engrossing the bulky measure, which normally would be done after the final votes at the Capitol, already has been completed so that the bill can be rushed to Johnson's desk.

If he signs it by tonight, paychecks delivered starting on March 4 should reflect the new lower tax withholding rate provided in the bill.

Clay Says He's Thinking Of Retiring

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A subdued Cassius Clay, the new heavyweight boxing champion, told a press conference today that he seriously is thinking about retirement from the ring.

"No I am not joking," the 22-year old Louisville sensation said. "I don't like to fight, I don't like to get hurt. I don't like to hurt anyone."

"I only fight to make a living and when I have enough money I won't fight anymore."

Cassius, talking in a low monotone that contrasted greatly to his earlier loud, shouting antics, contradicted himself immediately, however, by saying his immediate future was fighting.

He declared he would again fight Sonny Liston, whom he stopped Tuesday night in the seventh round technical knockout, or any other fighter the public wanted him to meet.

The new champion was asked if he planned to retire after one more big fight, which now would be expected to gross perhaps $10 million.

It was at this point that Clay dropped his retirement bombshell, saying in a low voice, "I am thinking about retiring right now."

Few of the newsmen took the statement seriously. However, few of them took Clay seriously when he said he was going to whip Liston.

Sinatra Kidnaping Data May Be Concluded Today

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The government's case against three suspects in the Frank Sinatra Jr. kidnaping may wind up today with a parade of FBI witnesses to follow the testimony of a young mother.

Mrs. Dennis Gray, 22 and brunette, gave a graphic picture in U.S. District Court Tuesday about what some people do with ransom money—close to $200,000 worth.

"They started throwing it at each other; taking their shoes off and walking around in it, playing football with it. Then they asked if we had a Monopoly set because they wanted to play Monopoly with real money."

She was referring to Barry Keenan, 23, and Joseph Amsler, 23, two of the three defendants in the trial. The other is John Irwin, 42. They are charged with kidnaping young Sinatra from his Lake Tahoe, Nev., motel room last Dec. 8.

Mrs. Gray said the young defendants were close friends of her husband and herself. They knocked on the door of the Gray apartment on the night of Dec. 12 around midnight, she testified.

"Barry and Joe said they were hungry and asked me to fix them something to eat. I told them I hadn't been to the market in a week, so I went out to the market, came back and cooked something."

"When I came into the bedroom to tell them dinner was ready, I saw the money spread on the floor. I don't know how much it was but there was quite a bit."

Earlier government witnesses have testified that Amsler and Keenan had all but $50,000 of the $240,000 ransom money with them. Irwin, who surrendered to the FBI, had the remainder.

Key Provisions Detailed In New Tax Relief Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The heart of the new tax cut bill is an across-the-board slash in rates, both for individuals and corporations.

The present schedule, for individuals, of 20 to 91 per cent goes to 16 to 77 per cent on income received this year. For 1965 income and thereafter the rates will be 14 to 70 per cent.

Roughly reflecting the reduction, withholding from wages and salaries will drop from 18 to 14 per cent beginning a week after the bill is signed.

For corporations the present 52 per cent rate is cut to 50 per cent on all 1964 income and 48 per cent thereafter. Further benefiting small businesses is a switch in normal and surtax rates. Now 30 per cent normal and 22 per cent surtax, they change in 1965 to 22 per cent normal, 26 per cent surtax.

The individual tax cuts are estimated by the Treasury as close to 19 per cent on the average. But taxpayers with very small and very large taxable incomes get relatively more relief than those in the middle. The steep top rates are cut proportionately more than others and, at the other end of the scale, a special new minimum standard deduction helps low-income families.

Instead of taking a standard deduction of 10 per cent of gross income, up to $1,000 deduction, a taxpayer may, if it is to his advantage, deduct instead $300 for himself and $100 for each exemption after his own, up to $1,000.

There are many other provisions in the long bill, some favorable to taxpayers, some bringing more money into the Treasury. Two that will affect many taxpayers are:

U.S. Viet Nam Policy Aide Quits Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Assistant Secretary of State Roger Hillsman, a key designer of U.S. policy in South Viet Nam, has resigned.

His resignation, announced Tuesday with a "Dear Roger" letter from President Johnson, came a day after the administration disclosed a shakeup in its Viet Nam policy making.

The State Department revealed then formation of a new task force to "sharpen the focus of handling Vietnamese problems." The new committee was put under William H. Sullivan, a special assistant to W. Averell Harriman, undersecretary for political affairs and an expert on Southeast Asia.

There have been reports of differences in the government on how to intensify the U.S. backed war against Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

Hillsman said his decision to resign as assistant secretary for Far Eastern affairs "was not related to any policy issues."

In making public the Johnson-Hillsman letters, the White House said the 44-year-old official was leaving to return to academic life.

Hillsman, a West Point graduate, holds a doctor's degree in international politics from Yale University and taught that subject at Princeton from 1953 to 1956.

Sales Tax Exemption Rapped by City Aide

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The Birmingham City Council Tuesday adopted a one-cent sales tax that would not apply to anyone over 65 whose annual income is $2,000 or less.

The new tax goes into effect March 1. However, city Finance Director B. R. Winstead says the exemption makes the tax "wholly unworkable."

cal taxes are somewhat trimmed. Taxpayers may continue to deduct state and local income real estate, general sales and gasoline taxes. But state and local liquor, cigarette taxes, auto tag and drivers license fees and a variety of state excise taxes are no longer deductible.

The rules are changed on taxation of stock dividends. The 4 per cent credit which taxpayers now are allowed to subtract directly from taxes due is cut to 2 per cent on 1964 stock dividends income and eliminated entirely next year. But the amount of dividends which may be deducted before computing the tax is doubled, so that the new figure is $100 for a single person, $200 for a married couple.

None of the new rules apply to the personal income tax returns Americans must file by April 15 of this year. These returns are on 1963 income. The tax bill is retroactive to Jan. 1, 1964.

Carole Tyler, Bobby Baker's attractive secretary, refused today to answer questions about her part in the former Senate aide's get-rich-quick deals.

"On the advice of my attorney," she said, "I refuse to answer any questions that may be propounded to me by members or employees of this committee other than those which relate to my name and identification as the person named in said subpoena."

In a statement read at the start of the Senate Rules Committee hearings, the 24-year-old former secretary based her refusal on constitutional grounds.

She followed Baker by one day on the witness stand before a standing-room only crowd and live television cameras in the marble-columned Senate caucus room.

Like Baker, she refused to answer questions on grounds of possible self-incrimination, and also invasion of privacy.

The 23-year-old was described by Baker as his cousin when he moved her into a swank four-bedroom townhouse where she still lives. She now works in Baker's law office.

The Rules Committee which Tuesday heard Baker refuse more than 100 times to answer questions put off a decision whether to recommend he be cited for contempt of Congress, punishable by a year's imprisonment, a $1,000 fine, or both.

The investigators peppered the former Senate aide with questions on topics ranging from the gift of a hi-fi set to President Johnson to whether Baker had any dealings with a convicted white slaver.

Baker, who resigned Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, cited constitutional grounds, including the Fifth Amendment, for his refusal to answer.

He also hit at the Senate Rules Committee's probe as a "legal jungle" and an unlawful "legislative trial."

TELEVISION hasn't taken the place of reading, according to the increased circulation of books at the Pickaway County District Public Library.

According to Mrs. Lester Wolford, librarian, during January, 9,881 books were borrowed from the main library and 9,121 from the Bookmobile. This makes a total of 19,002 circulated.

YESTERDAY'S sunshine pushed the mercury to a high of 52 degrees by mid-afternoon. However, today's snowfall, (which may reach a depth of two inches) caused most Pickaway Countians, especially motorists, to realize that winter is still with us. The forecast low for tonight is 10-15 degrees and a high of only 25-28 tomorrow, with scattered snow flurries.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The government's case against three suspects in the Frank Sinatra Jr. kidnaping may wind up today with a parade of FBI witnesses to follow the testimony of a young mother.

Mrs. Dennis Gray, 22 and brunette, gave a graphic picture in U.S. District Court Tuesday about what some people do with ransom money—close to $200,000 worth.

Early March Paychecks To Be Larger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The historic tax cut bill may be law by nightfall.

The Senate completed congressional action on the measure early this afternoon and thus provided an average 19 per cent reduction for individual income taxes.

The rollcall vote on passage was 74-19.

The White House said President Johnson would sign the $11.5-billion measure "at the earliest possible opportunity," possibly later today and certainly before he leaves for Florida at noon Thursday.

Engraving the bulky measure, which normally would be done after the final votes at the Capitol, already has been completed so that the bill can be rushed to Johnson's desk.

If he signs it by tonight, paychecks delivered starting on March 4 should reflect the new lower tax withholding rate provided in the bill.

Clay Says He's Thinking Of Retiring

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A subdued Cassius Clay, the new heavyweight boxing champion, told a press conference today that he seriously is thinking about retirement from the ring.

"No I am not joking," the 22-year old Louisville sensation said. "I don't like to fight, I don't like to get hurt. I don't like to hurt anybody."

"I only fight to make a living and when I have enough money I won't fight anymore."

Cassius, talking in a low monotone that contrasted greatly to his earlier loud, shouting antics, contradicted himself immediately, however, by saying his immediate future was fighting.

He declared he would again fight Sonny Liston, whom he stopped Tuesday night in the seventh round technical knockout, or any other fighter the public wanted him to meet.

The new champion was asked if he planned to retire after one more big fight, which now would be expected to gross perhaps $10 million.

It was at this point that Clay dropped his retirement bombshell, saying in a low voice, "I am thinking about retiring right now."

Few of the newsmen took the statement seriously. However, few of them took Clay seriously when he said he was going to whip Liston.

Sinatra Kidnaping Data May Be Concluded Today

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The government's case against three suspects in the Frank Sinatra Jr. kidnaping may wind up today with a parade of FBI witnesses to follow the testimony of a young mother.

Mrs. Dennis Gray, 22 and brunette, gave a graphic picture in U.S. District Court Tuesday about what some people do with ransom money—close to $200,000 worth.

"They started throwing it at each other; taking their shoes off and walking around in it, playing football with it. Then they asked if we had a Monopoly set because they wanted to play Monopoly with real money."

She was referring to Barry Keenan, 23, and Joseph Amsler, 23, two of the three defendants in the trial. The other is John Irwin, 42. They are charged with kidnaping young Sinatra from his Lake Tahoe, Nev., motel room last Dec. 8.

Mrs. Gray said the young defendants were close friends of her husband and herself. They knocked on the door of the Gray apartment on the night of Dec. 12 around midnight, she testified.

"Barry and Joe said they were hungry and asked me to fix them something to eat. I told them I hadn't been to the market in a week, so I went out to the market, came back and cooked something."

"When I came into the bedroom to tell them dinner was ready, I saw the money spread on the floor. I don't know how much it was but there was quite a bit."

Earlier government witnesses have testified that Amsler and Keenan had all but $50,000 of the $240,000 ransom money with them. Irwin, who surrendered to the FBI, had the remainder.

Information Listed Here On Personal Property Tax

The Pickaway County Auditor's office today reminded taxpayers they are required to file personal property tax returns no later than April 30 of this year if they were engaged in business on Dec. 31, 1963, or if they owned investments on Jan. 1 of 1964 consisting of stocks, corporate bonds, municipal bonds, notes, debentures, land contracts and other similar property.

Manufacturers, Merchants, contractors, farmers, lawyers, doctors, dentists and accountants, officials here said, are required to file personal property tax returns with their County Auditor and list all inventories, supplies, equipment and fixtures used in business. In addition to those actively engaged in business, every person who rents furnished rooms or apartments, must file a tax return, listing the furniture, fixtures and equipment included in such rental facilities, they added.

Investments are taxed at two mills if they produced no income or five per cent of the income yield if they were productive. The rate of tax on tangible personal property used in business is identical with the tax rate on real estate in the taxing district where the property is located. Mrs. Maxine Radcliff of the auditor's office said personal property taxes paid to the county treasurer, are used in this area for schools, libraries, health, police and fire services. Personal property tax blanks and information relative to the preparation of the return may be obtained by contacting the auditor's office.

There are penalties in addition to the required tax for those who fail to file returns within the time prescribed, spokesmen reminded. Beginning with the 1964 personal property tax return, Mrs. Radcliff said, machinery, equipment and implements used in agriculture shall be listed as "true value". Here is how the true value computation is figured:

From the cost of each item there is to be deducted an amount representing ten per cent depreciation for each year such item was owned by the taxpayer until the net value is 30 per cent of the original cost of the property. This net value shall be maintained for one year. Thereafter, an annual rate of 2 1/2 per cent shall apply until the net value shall have reached 25 per cent of the original cost.

Thereafter, so long as the property is held for use, further depreciation will not be allowed and 25 per cent of the original cost shall be the minimum acceptable for true value.

Stan Musial Sworn In as Johnson Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stan Musial, praised by President Johnson as "a hero to the youth of this country," was sworn in today as the President's consultant on physical fitness.

Musial, known as "Stan the Man" during his long and spectacular career in baseball, as been on the job since Monday. But the formal swearing-in ceremonies at the White House were delayed so his family and friends could be rounded up for the event.

Those attending included Atty. Gen. and Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy and Undersecretary of the Navy Paul B. Fay, old friends of Musial from the days he campaigned for the election of the late President John F. Kennedy.

Johnson said the career of Musial, who retired as an active player with the St. Louis Cardinals at the end of last season, was marked "by honor, decency and fair play."

Musial's wife, Lillian, and his teen-age daughters, Geraldine and Janet, beamed proudly during the ceremony. Musial takes over the post vacated by Bud Wilkinson, former athletic director and coach at the University of Oklahoma. Wilkinson resigned to run on the Republican ticket for the Senate in Oklahoma.

Tuesday, 326, to 83.

The bill will bring rate cuts for all of the nation's 80 million individual and 550,000 corporate taxpayers.

The tax savings will average around 19 per cent for individuals. They will be somewhat less for those in middle income brackets, higher at the bottom and top of the scale.

The reduction range is from around 15.5 per cent up to 100 per cent for the 1.5 million low-income taxpayers who will be dropped from the rolls entirely.

For corporations, the reduction will average 9 per cent. However, they benefited from an investment credit provision and liberalized depreciation rules established in 1962. The Treasury estimates the overall effect is to cut corporate tax liabilities 17 per cent.

Final action on the bill comes almost exactly 13 months after the late President John F. Kennedy sent his tax message to Congress calling for a reduction in income taxes.

"The largest single barrier to full employment of our manpower and resources and to a higher rate of economic growth," said Kennedy, "is the unrealistically heavy drag of federal income taxes on private purchasing power, initiative and incentive."

Johnson gave the bill an equally high priority after he took over the White House, making it the centerpiece of his economic program.

BOSTON (AP) — Thousands of Negro and white children boycotted the Boston public schools today to protest alleged de facto segregation.

Leaders of the boycott contend that 14,000 Negro students in the city's public schools are concentrated primarily in 13 schools with predominantly Negro student bodies.

A majority on the five-member school committee says that racial imbalance in schools is not due to any action on the part of the school system but results from the fact certain schools are located in predominantly Negro neighborhoods.

Jurors Find Man Guilty Of Forgery

A petit jury yesterday found a Wellston man guilty of a forgery charge in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court despite the absence of the check in question.

The trial for Cecil Philip Johnson began Monday morning and came to an end about 12:30 p. m. Tuesday when jurors returned to the courtroom with their unanimous verdict of guilty. They deliberated for more than 1 1/2 hours.

Johnson was convicted through the efforts of Prosecuting Attorney Robert H. Huffer, who without the forged check that Johnson allegedly made, proved his guilt to jurors. Johnson's nephew, Steven Kirkendall, testified that he had eaten the check.

Kirkendall is serving a sentence at the Ohio Penitentiary for being implicated in the forgery case. He pleaded guilty and was tried on a bill of information earlier.

Johnson testified during the hearing that he "had not served time before and was never convicted of a felony."

HOWEVER, Prosecutor Huffer submitted evidence that Johnson had served a sentence for manslaughter. He offered further records that the accused had served time at Mansfield Reformatory for a similar charge of forgery.

Johnson was indicted by the January term of the Grand Jury. He pleaded innocent to the accusation at his arraignment.

According to Judge William Ammer who heard the case, Johnson will appear before the court on Friday when sentence will be pronounced.

The defendant was represented by Allan Berger, Circleville attorney.

Mrs. Ruth P. Richards, Route 2, Ashville was named forelady of the jury. Other members were Mary Belle Speakman, Edwin Walters, Paul Barch, Jeanne Shea, Gladys Wilkins, Alice Camp, George Liff, Beatrice E. Bach, Emma M. Darks, Lawrence Neff, Betty Wardell and Virginia S. Sweeney.

Information Listed Here On Personal Property Tax

The Pickaway County Auditor's office today reminded taxpayers they are required to file personal property tax returns no later than April 30 of this year if they were engaged in business on Dec. 31, 1963, or if they owned investments on Jan. 1 of 1964 consisting of stocks, corporate bonds, municipal bonds, notes, debentures, land contracts and other similar property.

Manufacturers, Merchants, contractors, farmers, lawyers, doctors, dentists and accountants, officials here said, are required to file personal property tax returns with their County Auditor and list all inventories, supplies, equipment and fixtures used in business. In addition to those actively engaged in business, every person who rents furnished rooms or apartments, must file a tax return, listing the furniture, fixtures and equipment included in such rental facilities, they added.

Investments are taxed at two mills if they produced no income or five per cent of the income yield if they were productive. The rate of tax on tangible personal property used in business is identical with the tax rate on real estate in the taxing district where the property is located. Mrs. Maxine Radcliff of the auditor's office said personal property taxes paid to the county treasurer, are used in this area for schools, libraries, health, police and fire services. Personal property tax blanks and information relative to the preparation of the return may be obtained by contacting the auditor's office.

There are penalties in addition to the required tax for those who fail to file returns within the time prescribed, spokesmen reminded.

Beginning with the 1964 personal property tax return, Mrs. Radcliff said, machinery, equipment and implements used in agriculture shall be listed as "true value". Here is how the true value computation is figured:

From the cost of each item there is to be deducted an amount representing ten per cent depreciation for each year such item was owned by the taxpayer until the net value is 30 per cent of the original cost of the property. This net value shall be maintained for one year. Thereafter, an annual rate of 2 1/2 per cent shall apply until the net value shall have reached 25 per cent of the original cost.

Thereafter, so long as the property is held for use, further depreciation will not be allowed and 25 per cent of the original cost shall be the minimum acceptable for true value.

Stan Musial Sworn In as Johnson Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stan Musial, praised by President Johnson as "a hero to the youth of this country," was sworn in today as the President's consultant on physical fitness. Musial, known as "Stan the Man" during his long and spectacular career in baseball, as been on the job since Monday. But the formal swearing-in ceremonies at the White House were delayed so his family and friends could be rounded up for the event.

Those attending included Atty. Gen. and Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy and Undersecretary of the Navy Paul B. Fay, old friends of Musial from the days he campaigned for the election of the late President John F. Kennedy.

Johnson said the career of Musial, who retired as an active player with the St. Louis Cardinals at the end of last season, was marked "by honor, decency and fair play."

Musial's wife, Lillian, and his teen-age daughters, Geraldine and Janet, beamed proudly during the ceremony.

Musial takes over the post vacated by Bud Wilkinson, former athletic director and coach at the University of Oklahoma. Wilkinson resigned to run on the Republican ticket for the Senate in Oklahoma.

Doctor Ruled Innocent In Malpractice Case

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Howard H. Smead, physician for the Ford Motor Co. plant in Lorain, was found innocent Tuesday in a $150,000 malpractice suit filed by a former Ford employee.

Harold H. Segraves of Meza, Ariz., testified that permanent injuries resulted from the doctor's failure to diagnose immediately a spinal injury Segraves suffered while working at the plant in April 1961.

Foot Injury Treated

Shelley Thomas, 12, of Route 1, Amanda, who punctured her right foot on a weaving loom in her home, received emergency aid in Berger Hospital yesterday. She was released following treatment.

Mrs. Yakubisin sustained facial lacerations and a possible arm injury. She is in "fair" condition, according to Berger authorities. She was thrown clear of the car she was driving when it struck the truck.

Sweeney, the truck driver, was pinned in his vehicle. He was reported in "good" condition by Berger staff members. He apparently suffered a neck injury.

The accident is under investigation by the Lancaster State Highway Patrol Post. Complete details of the accident were not available.

Tuesday, $26, to $3.

The bill will bring rate cuts for all of the nation's 80 million individual and 550,000 corporate taxpayers.

The tax savings will average around 19 per cent for individuals. They will be somewhat less for those in middle income brackets, higher at the bottom and top of the scale.

The reduction range is from around 15.5 per cent up to 100 per cent for the 1.5 million low-income taxpayers who will be dropped from the rolls entirely.

For corporations, the reduction will average 9 per cent. However, they benefited from an investment credit provision and liberalized depreciation rules established in 1962. The Treasury estimates the overall effect is to cut corporate tax liabilities 17 per cent.

Final action on the bill comes almost exactly 13 months after the late President John F. Kennedy sent his tax message to Congress calling for a reduction in income taxes.

"The largest single barrier to full employment of our manpower and resources and to a higher rate of economic growth," said Kennedy, "is the unrealistically heavy drag of federal income taxes on private purchasing power, initiative and incentive."

Johnson gave the bill an equally high priority after he took over the White House, making it the centerpiece of his economic program.

DALLAS (AP) — A young salesman was accepted today as the sixth juror in Jack Ruby's murder trial, making the jury half completed.

He said he saw a rerun of the televised shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald. But he was not closely questioned by either side as to whether it made a deep impression on him.

BOSTON (AP) — Thousands of Negro and white children boycotted the Boston public schools today to protest alleged de facto segregation.

Leaders of the boycott contend that 14,000 Negro students in the city's public schools are concentrated primarily in 13 schools with predominantly Negro student bodies.

A majority on the five-member school committee says that racial imbalance in schools is not due to any action on the part of the school system but results from the fact certain schools are located in predominantly Negro neighborhoods.

She came down with pneumonia last Monday, three days after her husband, King Paul, underwent surgery for a stomach ulcer.

A medical bulletin said the king continues to make steady progress.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Plans to construct a monument in memory of President John F. Kennedy at the spot where he was assassinated have been announced by the Citizens Memorial Committee, appointed by former Mayor Earle Cabell.

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's wartime mess sergeant, who dropped everything to campaign for Eisenhower in 1952, says he's going to the same thing this year for Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts.

Marty Snyder, now a New York restaurateur, arrived Tuesday night in New Hampshire, where the nation's first presidential preference primary will be held March 10.

"I did the same thing for Eisenhower in 1952, when he was overseas, just as Lodge is now—doing a job," Snyder said. Lodge is U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam.

TORONTO (AP) — Dr. G. W. Williams, 81, delivered his own great-grandson Tuesday.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Former Japanese Premier Shigeru Yoshida reported today that he and President Chiang Kai-shek had cleared up all misunderstandings between Nationalist China and Japan.

The Japanese government sent the elder statesman to see Chiang, an old friend, after relations between the two countries were strained by increasing Japanese trade with Red China and Japan's deportation to Peking of a Chinese defector who changed his mind after saying he wanted to go to Formosa.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The United States bolstered President Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalist air force today with more than 30 F104G Starfighters, fighter-bomber-interceptors capable of speeds in excess of 1,500 miles an hour.

Parliament's upper house voted 65-57 in favor of an amendment urging that the time-honored name of Britain's navy department be retained. However, the House of Commons must approve the amendment to make it effective.

The Conservative government proposed the change as part of a new unified defense setup under which the Admiralty will become a subsidiary of the Defense Council.

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Dr. Josef Klaus began trying to form a new Austrian coalition cabinet today after the resignation of Chancellor Alfons Gorbach.

Klaus, 53, heads the "reformers group" in the Conservative People's party which forced Gorbach out of his job last week in a factional fight within the party. The reformers accused Gorbach of being too soft toward his Socialist partners in the cabinet.

Route 4 Woman Pays for Alleged Chimney Repair

Mrs. Jesse Hutchinson, Route 4, told Pickaway County Sheriff's Department yesterday that she had paid $72 to three men allegedly posing as government flue inspectors.

The three unknown men told her the chimneys at her house needed repairing. They added two short lengths of metal pipe to the chimney, according to Mrs. Hutchinson, and then presented her a bill for $82.

Shortly after the departure of the trio, she discovered her wristwatch was missing.

Jurors Find Man Guilty Of Forgery

A petit jury yesterday found a Wellston man guilty of a forgery charge in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court despite the absence of the check in question.

The trial for Cecil Philip Johnson began Monday morning and came to an end about 12:30 p. m. Tuesday when jurors returned to the courtroom with their unanimous verdict of guilty. They deliberated for more than 1 1/2 hours.

Johnson was convicted through the efforts of Prosecuting Attorney Robert H. Huffer, who without the forged check that Johnson allegedly made, proved his guilt to jurors. Johnson's nephew, Steven Kirkendall, testified that he had eaten the check.

Kirkendall is serving a sentence at the Ohio Penitentiary for being implicated in the forgery case. He pleaded guilty and was tried on a bill of information earlier.

Johnson testified during the hearing that he "had not served time before and was never convicted of a felony."

HOWEVER, Prosecutor Huffer submitted evidence that Johnson had served a sentence for manslaughter. He offered further records that the accused had served time at Mansfield Reformatory for a similar charge of forgery.

Johnson was indicted by the January term of the Grand Jury. He pleaded innocent to the accusation at his arraignment.

According to Judge William Ammer who heard the case, Johnson will appear before the court on Friday when sentence will be pronounced.

The defendant was represented by Allan Berger, Circleville attorney.

Mrs. Ruth P. Richards, Route 2, Ashville was named forelady of the jury. Other members were Mary Belle Speckman, Edwin Walters, Paul Barch, Jeanne Shea, Gladys Wilkins, Alice Camp, George Liff, Beatrice E. Bach, Emma M. Darks, Lawrence Neff, Betty Wardell and Virginia S. Sweeney.

Exodus Worries Britain

Britons are understandably aroused by the growing exodus from their shores of top intellectual talent. The emigration of educators, doctors, scientists and other highly skilled workers began a few years ago, but in recent months it has been sharply on the upswing. Already it is apparent the loss of scarce professionals will be an important issue in the national elections to be held later this year.

Public attention was drawn dramatically to the phenomenon by the announcement that Prof. Ian Bush and nine members of his research team would leave Birmingham University en masse for the Worcester Foundation in Massachusetts. Professor Bush is the head of Birmingham's department of physiology and a leading English researcher.

About 12 per cent of Britain's scientists with newly acquired Ph.D.'s leave the country each year, many of them for posts in the United States. During the last academic year, 160 senior university teachers left Britain, more than one-third of them headed for the U.S.

There are many reasons for a country's "brain drain," and Britain seems to possess many of them. Higher salaries elsewhere, less bureaucratic control of science projects, a greater market for the products of research and greater academic freedom are the most frequently mentioned lures.

Intellectual talent commands not only a good financial reward in the United States but a place at the forefront of progress. Where else is scientific talent in greater demand than in the thick of space activities?

Professional freedom is more frequently mentioned by Britain's emigrating professionals than pecuniary rewards. In the United States, the scientist can virtually dictate the terms of his project. Certainly Vice Admiral Rickover and Werner Von Braun provide examples of the professional latitude permitted in the U.S.

Britain can never compete with the U. S. on a dollar-for-dollar basis, but improvement of its climate for academic and scientific pursuit could work wonders in keeping home-grown talent at home.

Broad Statement

Richard Nixon is getting his lumps for classing Russia's Nikita Khrushchev as "without qualification the most able all-around world leader today." That's what Nixon said in a speech recently.

One cannot help but get the feeling that it was a sneaky way of saying that Russian leadership is what enables the communist world consistently to make life difficult and even embarrassing for the rest of us.

Perhaps Khrushchev is the best of a bad lot, a sort of bucolic menace with a born comedian's flair for the bizarre. Perhaps if they took their time, many persons could think of some others worse than the present Kremlin leader.

But not many have found it difficult to guard against letting the boisterous conviviality of an old sot hide the essential evilness and hypocrisy of his record.

Calm Man Retires

Britain's former prime minister, Harold Macmillan, 40 years a member of Parliament, will not run for reelection. So swiftly do events flood each other that his tenure as prime minister already seems strangely remote, although it is only four months since he retired from office.

Macmillan became prime minister in 1957, following the turbulent Suez crisis which caused the resignation of his predecessor, Anthony Eden. At that time, he made a self-revealing remark: "I am what I am. I have held all the great offices of state and being prime minister is not going to change me."

Nor did it. He was never seen, when prime minister, to show excitement. It was either a natural inner calmness or a studied self-restraint, but whichever it was, it aroused admiration in his supporters and annoyance in his opponents.

When he became occupant of 10 Downing Street, he pinned up notices in his own handwriting quoting a favorite line from Gilbert and Sullivan: "Quiet, calm deliberation untangles every knot." His contributions to world peace, particularly his controversial visit to Moscow in 1959 which paved the way for the test ban treaty, must be left for historians to assess.

Hubby Is Demon in Kitchen

NEW YORK (AP) — Getting my husband to cook is a formidable task. But once he's started, it's even harder to get him to stop.

When he gets going his enthusiasm is as boundless as the ingredients he uses. But he finds it difficult to limit his culinary efforts to the needs of an ordinary — size family, his talents being more in keeping with those of an Army cook.

If he decides to whip up a bowl of soup for a midnight snack, stand back! It will overflow the biggest pot in the house. Starting with a couple of cans of condensed soup, he adds his own personalizing touch with a lavish hand — cans of beans, corn, peas and onions, potatoes, ketchup, mustard and anything else he can find.

His cooking fervor stops at the point where the dirty pans and dishes begin. But while he's operating he comes up with some imaginative, if somewhat indigestible, concoctions. He once decided to make stew and, lacking any meat, used a can of tuna fish as the basic ingredient.

When my husband creates a salad he feels no dressing we have on hand is a fit accompaniment. So he formulates his own.

He recently started out to make a little dressing to go on one of his salads and for once laid the foundation with just a small amount of oil and vinegar. Then he added mustard, barbecue sauce, lemon juice, pickle juice, tomato juice, onion juice which he obtained by pressing onion slices in my orange juice squeezer, mayonnaise and a touch of gingerale. It wasn't bad, but there are still several quart bottles of it in the refrigerator. Any akers?

U. S. Mint Director Eva Adams thinks silver dollars are on the way out. The reason is, they're worth a dollar.

A silver dollar has a dollar's worth of silver in it. That's a real value in this day and age.

The paper dollar seems to be on the way out, too. It's more than half gone in the past decade.

The paper dollar is known as folding money. It's been folding steadily.

Mint Director Adams comes from Nevada, where silver dollars are carried like change. That gives you an idea how cowboys got such droopy pants.

How meaningful are the Pulitzer Prize awards for the "best novel of the year"? Here are some of the ironic choices made in previous years by this committee, as researched by Horizon Magazine:

1. In 1919, Willa Cather wrote "My Antonia." The Pulitzer Prize that year went to Booth Tarkington for "The Magnificent Ambersons."
2. In 1920, Sherwood Anderson wrote "Winesburg, Ohio." The Committee deemed no novel worthy of an award that year.
3. In 1927, Ernest Hemingway wrote "The Sun Also Rises." The award went to Louis Bromfield's "For Early Autumn."
4. In 1930, Thomas Wolfe wrote "Look Homeward, Angel." The award went to Oliver La Farge's "Laughing Boy."
5. In 1933, William Faulkner wrote "Light in August." The award went to T. S. Stribling's "The Store."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

I am writing about my husband who has attacks of fainting. When he passes out, it lasts for about five minutes. My daughter noticed that these spells happen most often on a Sunday. Last week it happened in church. My husband wears a necktie only on Sunday. He wears his collar open the rest of the week when he drives a gas truck. He is 65 years old and I worry that he will have such a spell while in the truck alone. His doctor says that it is due to a sensitive gland in the neck. Do you have any suggestions as to what causes it or what can be done? Would an oxygen tank help?

Mrs. J.R.S., Virginia
Dear Mrs. S.: Your daughter's observation is a very intelligent one. It undoubtedly was an important contribution to your doctor's diagnosis of the cause of the fainting spells.

There is a highly developed nerve center in the neck, close to one of the largest arteries in the body, the carotid. This never center is called the carotid sinus (this has absolutely no connection with the nasal sinuses).

When on Sundays your husband wears a necktie, he probably presses on this highly sensitive bundle of nerves. This stimulates a reflex which produces a temporary loss of consciousness by the sudden reduction of the blood supply to the brain.

There are available special X-Ray techniques that actually show the condition of the blood vessels of the neck. These may be of value in determining why your husband is so extremely sensitive. New drugs are being used to reduce such excessive sensitivity when the exact cause is determined.

Meanwhile, it is dangerous for anyone to drive a gas truck and subject himself and the people in the community to any risk if he should happen to have a spell while driving.

It is far more important to establish definitely the exact diagnosis before purchasing an expensive and cumbersome oxygen tank. Oxygen or any other medication should not be used without the explicit direction and supervision of your physician.

When the exact diagnosis is made, a regime can be established for your husband that probably will prevent these frightening experiences.

I have a foot problem that has been plaguing me for a long time. I have developed a hard callous on the balls of both feet. I peel off the hard skin many times, but the callous always returns. Can you suggest a remedy for this discomfort?

Mrs. L.R., Illinois
Dear Mrs. R.: Peeling off the hard skin obviously does not attack or remove the cause of your recurring callouses.

Callouses are nature's protection against the chronic irritation of badly-fitting shoes or disturbances of the arch of the foot. Alterations of the metatarsal arch by widening or collapse puts undue pressure on the ball of the foot.

Numerous metatarsal supports like the "Denver heel," when specifically prescribed, can relieve the pressure, diminish the pain and offer foot comfort.

Peeling off the callous by a person with poor vision and improper instruments can be dangerous, especially for the elderly and people with circulatory problems. A chiropodist or podiatrist can do these procedures with skill and safety.

Now It's 'Coal-by-Wire'

By John Chamberlain

Norman Thomas, the old and likable warhorse of American socialism, goes on making his propaganda for his credo, which says something for his loyalty to a cause. But meanwhile the world of fact passes him by. He is always getting caught with his statements down.

For example, he said recently that under a "new formula" for coal mining, "coal would be turned into power and heat near the mine mouth." But, so he continued, "it would be fantastic to expect so good a plan to be carried out by competing managers of mines of various sizes, whose primary concern is to produce profits for private owners."

Even as Mr. Thomas was talking, however, a number of eminently capitalist enterprises were getting set to turn coal "into power and heat near the mine mouth." The Commonwealth Edison Company of Chicago is just about to commit $100 million for a great "mine-mouth" electric generating plant near Springfield, Illinois, in the heart of the central Illinois coal region. The power, amounting to more than a million kilowatts, will be shipped to Chicago, 175 miles distant, by two 345,000-volt transmission lines, a real "coal-by-wire" proposition.

Meanwhile, a similar project is under construction in Western Pennsylvania. Three eminently capitalist utilities, the Jersey Central Power and Light Company, the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company, and the Philadelphia Electric Company, have combined to set a second "coal-by-wire" venture in motion in Armstrong County, ten miles west of Indiana, Pennsylvania. The main contract for building the facilities needed to turn coal into steam, and then into electricity, at the projected 1,600,000-kilowatt Keystone Generation Station for shipment to the populous east by 500,000-volt circuits is in the hands of the Combustion Engineering company. The Westinghouse Electric Company is building two 800,000-kilowatt cross-compound generators for the Keystone plant, which gives Westinghouse the biggest turbine generator order in its history.

The idea of "coal-by-wire" is to cut out the expensive handling involved in shipping coal by rail and water. To meet the threat of "coal-by-wire," the railroad has already developed the so-called "integral coal train." Both of the new Illinois and the Western Pennsylvania mine-mouth ventures would have been impossible a few years ago, but some recent developments in ultra high-voltage cables have overcome the last difficulties that stood in the way of profitable "coal-by-wire" operations.

The Commonwealth Edison mine-mouth plant, which is to rise about a mile in conveyor-belt distance from one of the largest underground mines in the world, will, according to its engineers, be fully as economical as a nuclear plant or as any conventional steam plant that is serviced by integral train, barge or pipeline. And it will be proof against shut-downs caused by railway strikes.

From the standpoint of cleanliness, "coal-by-wire" will have an extra economic virtue, for it will keep coal dust and smoke from entering congested urban areas.

Now, all of this ought to please Norman Thomas right down to the ground. It brings something into existence which he has always wanted. But it is doubtful that he will be sufficiently elastic to welcome "coal-by-wire" when it becomes a complete reality by 1967 in Illinois and Pennsylvania. You see, the trick is being turned by capitalism, not by socialism. Mr. Thomas has been outflanked. Foiled again!

Of course, the Commonwealth Edison Company and the three participating companies in the West Pennsylvania venture hope to make a profit out of the deal, which is a scandal to socialists. But how does Mr. Thomas think the technology of the new ultra high-voltage cables was brought into existence? Profits did it, profits plowed back into the sort of experimentation that socialism, notoriously, bungles because bureaucrats have no incentive to change their world.

Dear Editor:

What is this town coming to, I wonder? In my way of thinking it's becoming a "ghost town."

With all these new buildings and the size of the city, why can't we have a theater? Everyone wonders why so many teenagers get into trouble. Perhaps the answer is because there isn't anything for us to do.

Our mothers won't let us go to skating rinks because sometimes they are frequented by rougher type people. The bowling lanes are nice places to go to, but some people don't have the money or just don't know how to bowl.

Who wants to go to Columbus just to see a movie? It was easy and simple when we used to be able to walk to the Grand. We are sure in great need of a theater!

Rusk addressed a world affairs conference held by the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Marine Workers.

POVERTY CAMPAIGN: Rep. Otto Passman says President Johnson's "war on poverty" has been so misunderstood abroad that some immigrants in his district are getting "CARE packages" from relatives back home.

"It's a real reverse twist," said the Louisiana Democrat in an interview. "The President's statement that 20 per cent of Americans are poverty-stricken has led some people abroad to believe we're all starving to death."

Passman said he disagreed with the President's whole concept in the campaign against poverty.

SMOKING: U.S. Surgeon General Luther L. Terry says the Public Health Service is "convinced that the American people have been deceived and misled by cigarette advertising — and their health has been harmed as a consequence."

Terry declared, in a National Press Club address Tuesday, that the health service intends to support proposed actions by the Federal Trade Commission to put curbs on cigarette advertising in the light of the report by the surgeon general's advisory committee that concluded cigarette smoking is a health hazard.

REDISTRICTING: The House Judiciary Committee launches hearings March 18 on proposals making congressional districts more uniform in population.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said Tuesday the basis of the hearings will be his bill to require states to make the districts as reasonably compact as possible with a population variation of not more than 15 per cent.

ROWAN: The Senate has confirmed Carl T. Rowan as director of the U.S. Information Agency.

Rowan, 38, former prize winning reporter on the Minneapolis Tribune and author of several books, will be the first Negro to sit in regularly on sessions of the Cabinet and National Security Council.

Scouts Prep For Annual Exposition

Paul Bunyan is a name heard frequently during Boy Scout meetings.

He is the symbol of the 1964 Scouting Exposition that will be held at the Ohio State Fairgrounds by the Central Ohio Council June 12-14.

The Scouting show, like the Scout-O-Rama held in former years, will be presented by cub scouts, boy scouts and explorer units. Adult scouters will be used as advisers.

Unlike past scouting shows, the 1964 event will start at one corner of the fairgrounds and extend as far as possible, including grounds and buildings.

The Paul Bunyan Scouting Exposition will feature a display of scouts in demonstrating skills, leadership and salesmanship. There will be demonstration booths, Indian villages, a Paul Bunyan arena, explorer specialties and a Cub Scout carnival midway.

To date there are about 200 scout units entered in the Paul Bunyan Exposition, with many more entries expected. Pickaway District has received their entries: Troop 479 of Atlanta, gun safety; Troop 170 of Circleville, knotboard; Troop 484 of Tarleton, world's fastest knot tying; Explorer Post 3 of Circleville, pinewood derby racer and auto road-a-o; Cub Pack 320 of Derby, know-your-neighbor.

Gerald W. Ayers, district participation chairman, can be reached at GR 4-4718 for information concerning entry in the exposition.

"I would like to remind all scout units that there is a deadline for accepting entries and there will be no 'next year' for entering. A show this big can only be held every two years," Ayers said.

Ayers added that the exposition will be a "red feather" project sponsored by the community fund.

Evading Federal Tax Is Claimed

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Eight men described as operators of a large-scale numbers racket in Toledo have been indicted on charges of evading federal gambling taxes on more than $250,000 in bets.

Seven defendants named Tuesday by a federal grand jury here in the first of two indictments were accused of allegedly conspiring to evade taxes on $229,175 in bets collected between July and October last year.

They were identified as George 54, John, 50, and Sam Besase, 45, all brothers; Angelo Perna, 53; Sam Rappaport, 51; Harold Bonta, 31, and Ted Maison, 45, also known as Theophilus B. Murzynski.

Steven J. Kovacs, 52, described by authorities as a long-time gambling figure in Toledo, was named in the second indictment.

Those indicted were among 25 arrested last Oct. 23 during an Internal Revenue Service raid. Fourteen who have pleaded guilty to charges of conducting gambling operations will be sentenced Friday.

Defendants in the first indictment reported receiving only $26,288 in bets for the period in question and paid the required 10 per cent only on that amount, the grand jury charged. They actually owed $22,917 and thus were charged with evading payment of $20,288, the indictment alleged.

The indictment identified Bonta as an employee of the gambling operation and the other six defendants as the operators. The conspiracy count charged, however, that Bonta falsely claimed to be the operator.

Maximum penalty for all but Bonta on conviction would be 25 years in prison and $50,000 in fines. Maximum penalty for Bonta would be five years and $10,000.

Kovacs is charged with evading most of the tax due on more than $35,000 allegedly collected by his numbers operation during the same four months. He could face 20 years in prison and a $40,000 fine if convicted.

Controversial Play Due To Open Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—A Broadway play which accuses the late Pope Pius XII of failing to speak out against Hitler's mass murder of Jews has stirred controversy here even before its opening. During its European presentation, spectators leaped onto the stage to attack the actors.

The play's German author, Rolf Hochhuth, 33, who was a teen-age member of Hitler's Youth Corps, arrived Monday for the play's opening tonight. He said he hopes his drama, "The Deputy," is received "more factually and less emotionally" than it was overseas.

Pope Paul VI has labeled the play an unjust attack on Pope Pius, who died in 1958. Pope Paul said his predecessor was well known for "his compassion for human suffering, his courage and his gentleness of heart."

In the play, a young Jesuit priest confronts the pontiff with evidence of Nazi atrocities and pleads with him to issue a papal denunciation.

Pope Pius is depicted as replying: "A diplomat must see a great deal—and say nothing." He then reasons, in the script, that Hitler is a necessary barrier between Soviet communism and the Christian West, and adds: "We must let him have a pardon so long as he is useful in the East."

Modern geologists believe the earth consists of separate concentric layers — the outer skin, or crust, averaging 20 miles in thickness; the mantle, an 1,800-mile-thick mass of dense rock; and finally, the mysterious core.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

CUBAN TRADE: Secretary of State Dean Rusk declared Tuesday that non-Communist nations selling important goods to Cuba are interfering with the hemisphere's efforts to protect itself against Cuban subversion and aggression.

Other governments should understand, Rusk said, that Cuba still has the potential of endangering "the security of the entire free world" as it did in the missile crisis of 1962.

Rusk addressed a world affairs conference held by the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Marine Workers.

Okies Bucking Sonic Tests

New Lab Hinted For U.S. Agency

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The Federal Aviation Agency may be forced to find a new laboratory for its sonic boom tests. The City Council voted 7-0 Tuesday to ask suspension of the supersonic flights.

The council asked a three-month suspension and an FAA spokesman said he understands the tests will be halted when an official copy of the council's action reaches Washington.

Gordon Bain, deputy FAA administrator in charge of supersonic development, said prior to the beginning of the tests Feb. 3 if Oklahoma City residents reacted adversely to the sonic booms an alternate site for the experiments might be selected.

But citizens' groups already are trying to counteract the action of the City Council. The Chamber of Commerce adopted a resolution Tuesday urging continuation of the tests which are designed to determine the effect of repeated sonic booms before approving development of commercial supersonic transport planes.

Another group organized as Citizens for Progress of Oklahoma City is circulating a petition urging the council to withdraw its protest.

The council's action followed a session in which persons opposing the booms protested the flights which occur as many as eight times daily. About five more months of testing is scheduled.

The council also asked the FAA to furnish it with data collected from the tests already conducted.

BABIES AND THE MOON

Q. Is it true that more babies are born when the moon is full than at other times?

A. No, but this is a popular and world-wide notion. To prove or disprove this belief, records of almost 10,000 births were reviewed. There was no evidence that this ancient belief is true. In fact, births at the new moon outnumbered deliveries at the full moon by 3 to 2. It's high time to discard the superstition that the moon influences the time of birth.

ILLNESS IN CLUSTERS

Q. Does "when it rains it pours" apply to sickness?

A. It seems so. Some people may go through life with little or no illness while others seem to be sick much of the time. Doctors at a New York hospital went over the records of almost 3,000 persons. They found that illness usually occurred in "clusters." Periods of ill-health lasted several years and were frequently followed by long spells of good health.

Answers appearing in these columns are of necessity, brief and general in nature and do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all physicians.

A question and answer period followed.

BABIES AND THE MOON

Q. Is it true that more babies are born when the moon is full than at other times?

A. No, but this is a popular and world-wide notion. To prove or disprove this belief, records of almost 10,000 births were reviewed. There was no evidence that this ancient belief is true. In fact, births at the new moon outnumbered deliveries at the full moon by 3 to 2. It's high time to discard the superstition that the moon influences the time of birth.

ILLNESS IN CLUSTERS

Q. Does "when it rains it pours" apply to sickness?

A. It seems so. Some people may go through life with little or no illness while others seem to be sick much of the time. Doctors at a New York hospital went over the records of almost 3,000 persons. They found that illness usually occurred in "clusters." Periods of ill-health lasted several years and were frequently followed by long spells of good health.

Answers appearing in these columns are of necessity, brief and general in nature and do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all physicians.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

It's Hearsay, Lady!

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor who has been my friend for many years told me the other day that my daughter-in-law passed the remark, "I will be worth a lot of money when my husband's old lady kicks the bucket." I am 58, in good health and have no plans for "kicking any bucket" for a long time. I have quit speaking to my daughter-in-law, but this doesn't seem fair to my son. Should I see my son without my daughter-in-law and continue the cold war? Or should I start speaking to my daughter-in-law?

DEAR ABBY: What kind of "friend" would have repeated a remark such as your neighbor quoted? It is even possible that your daughter-in-law never said it. I think you quit speaking to the wrong woman. Talk to your daughter-in-law and straighten it out. Life is too short.

DEAR ABBY: May I put in a good word for beards? My husband has a beautiful beard. Let's face it. Some men can grow beards and others can't.

Many Communities Taking Aim On Filthy Feathered Friends

By WILLIAM S. STEVENS
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A long-standing battle over pigeons and starlings in communities across New York State has ruffled far more feathers among the human population than among the birds.

The pigeons and starlings seem content to roost on buildings (with the inevitable result) exist on handouts, tidbits at dumps and railroad sidings.

When the enemy appears, they vacate less hospitable locations—for a time at least.

An Associated Press survey revealed that more than a score of urban communities across the state are aware of or doing something about the so-called "dirty bird nuisance."

State Health Agency Asks Higher Pay

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Salary increase recommendations from the director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, intended primarily for professional employees, are being studied by the state Finance Department.

Director Martin A. Janis says higher pay is needed to compete with other states and private enterprise in the hiring of professional people for the state's institutions.

It is understood that his proposal in the professional category alone would cost the state an additional $1.25 million annually. Janis also is hoping for salary increases for some non-professional people as direct treatment work in metropolitan area, where the wage situation is more competitive.

Fort Edward, near Glens Falls, took more drastic action. The village permitted men armed with shotguns to blast away at the huge flocks of pigeons were killed. The village operations. About 5,000 pigeons were killed. The remainder apparently dispersed to nearby areas, including Glens Falls, thus straining community relations.

Disagreement is rife concerning the "pigeon problem." Health departments in several cities have declared the pigeon a health menace. On the other hand, the birds are given a clean bill of health in other urban areas.

Schemes to eliminate or discourage pigeons and starlings are diverse.

Hunters armed with shotguns are utilized. Traps are set. These methods guarantee the birds won't return. Poison is avoided because of the danger to other wildlife and humans.

Electric wires, gooey chemicals that give the bird a hot-foot, stuffed owls and crows, tacks, roofing nails, wire mesh, jagged glass and ash-can drumming have been tried, mostly with limited success.

The birds fly away, roost elsewhere and return when the heat is off. Meantime the unwilling new hosts to the birds become quite frosty with the former hosts.

Pity poor Niagara Falls. It must wage war against seagulls as well as pigeons and starlings. The gulls roost along the railings overlooking the city's famed cataract attraction.

Tiny FM Transmitter Is Perfected

CLEVELAND (AP)—A group of Cleveland researchers has developed a tiny FM transmitter smaller than a shirt button which can be implanted in the body of an experimental animal to study the electrical activity of muscles, the heart and respiratory system.

A spokesman for Case Institute of Technology said studies will be made also concerning the possibility of using tiny implanted transmitters and receivers of activated groups of body muscles in paralyzed humans.

The bio-edical engineering research is directed by Dr. James B. Reswick, director of Case Tech's Engineering Design Center, and Dr. Olgierd Lindman of Highland View Hospital.

The miniature transmitters are powered by tiny mercury batteries or by an externally induced electrical field surrounding the cage of the animal being studied.

In heart research, use of the implanted transmitter permits study of the heart's electrical activity when the animal is asleep, when it is active or when it is frightened.

County Judge John Zopf acquitted the minister after he testified the signal lights were not flashing when he started across and that the train was "far down the track."

Third Ironton Escapes To Face Extradition

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff Carl E. Rose says he will file extradition papers for the return of Austin Hardwick, 24, of Huntington, W. Va., to Lawrence County.

Hardwick, the third of five who escaped from the Lawrence County jail Feb. 16, was apprehended in Huntington Tuesday.

However, the pigeons and starlings have powerful allies in humane societies and pigeon fanciers.

Estimates on the cost of cleaning up after pigeons and starlings range into the millions of dollars each year.

Pigeons raise an average of 6 to 7 broods of 2 squabs each year and can attain a life span of 35 years.

Syracuse, urged by the city's newspapers and residents, recently began a full-scale attack on the problem.

The city imposes a $100 fine on persons convicted of feeding pigeons on public property. It sets traps which have snared about 2,000 pigeons and 10,000 starlings.

Fort Edward, near Glens Falls, took more drastic action. The village permitted men armed with shotguns to blast away at the huge flocks of pigeons were killed. The king operations. About 5,000 pigeons were killed. The re-

Well-meaning city-folks continue to feed them. To most city folks, pigeons, with their messy ways—are just a downright nuisance, along with starlings and English sparrows.

City health departments throughout the state all agree there is an urgent need, for health reasons also, to reduce the pigeon population and the hazard of infection from their droppings.

Everyone doesn't share the anti-pigeon philosophy. Thousands of tons of birdseed are sold every year in Pennsylvania. City pigeons get a sizeable share.

Many methods have been tried in Philadelphia for getting rid of pigeons, including specially built netting, girl pigeon decoys, electrical grid wiring, sticky goo to make pigeon promenading icky, live falcons, and broadcasts of tape recordings of distress cries of pigeons.

More recently, Philadelphia tried a costly mixture of ethyl alcohol and a manufactured chemical. The birds drank it and became intoxicated. They passed out, were taken to the SPCA and sent to their permanent roosting grounds.

School Bus Pilot Cleared in Court

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—The Rev. Amos McSwain, 35, of Waynesville has been acquitted in Warren County court of a charge of driving a loaded school bus in front of a freight train when the flasher warning lights were operating.

The incident occurred Feb. 3 at a Pennsylvania Railroad track crossing on the Franklin-Harveysburg Road. The charge was filed by Louis Hopper, engineer on the train, and Richard Patton, the fireman.

County Judge John Zopff acquitted the minister after he testified the signal lights were not flashing when he started across and that the train was "far down the track."

Third Ironton Escapee To Face Extradition

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff Carl E. Rose says he will file extradition papers for the return of Austin Hardwick, 24, of Huntington, W. Va., to Lawrence County.

Hardwick, the third of five who escaped from the Lawrence County jail Feb. 16, was apprehended in Huntington Tuesday.

Nominations for 'Oscars' Bring Out Usual Carping

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There was the usual carping after the Oscar nominations were handed out in the library of the Motion Picture Academy this week.

"How is it," wailed the Warner Brothers man, "that 'America America' can win for best picture, writing and direction and not get a single nomination for acting?"

"How could it happen," moaned the Paramount man,

Aircraft Firm Delays Move to Michigan

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Officials of Bede Aircraft, Inc., are postponing a decision to move the plant to Muskegon, Mich., pending further news from Gov. James A. Rhodes.

A company spokesman said Tuesday Rhodes has offered to "equal or better" the Muskegon offer and to find a suitable location for the small plane manufacturer. The move apparently was voted recently by the board of directors.

"that 'Hud' could score for three performances, best direction and writing and not be named best picture?"

"How come," sniffed a devotee of the cinema art, "such obviously commercial movies as 'Cleopatra' and 'How the West Was Won' got so many nominations?"

"Who says the Academy voters can't be pressured?" snapped a social critic. "Bobby Darin and Nick Adams spent a fortune on trade paper ads—and it paid off with nominations."

So it goes. Each year's nominations bring new reasons for complaints. Oscar-sniping is one of the favorite local sports.

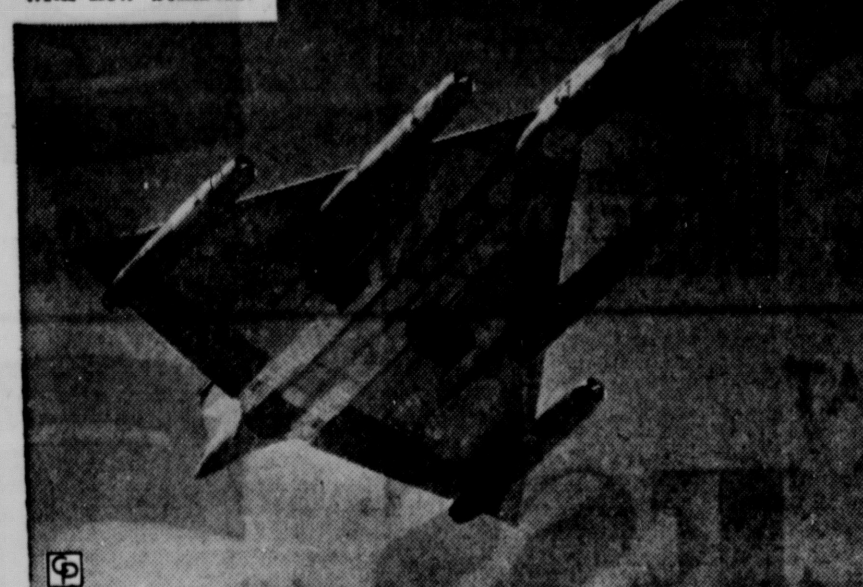

Only anglophiles could be entirely satisfied with the nominees for 1963 awards, which are shaping up as the biggest American rout by the British since the sacking of the White House. Hollywood is following the trend of the New York theater, which for the past few seasons has relied on English imports for what little eminence it could offer.

The B-58 Hustler bomber . . . getting too old.

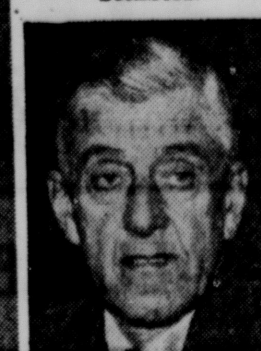

"TUG-OF-DEFENSE"—Here are principals in a "Tug-of-Defense" in Washington over the House-passed $16.9 billion authorization for defense. The bill includes $92 million to get a new bomber and long-range interceptor underway, to be in the air in the 1970s. It appears likely to be passed over Secretary Robert McNamara's objections. He favors missiles.

Defense Secretary McNamara wants just $5 million for bomber study.

Richard B. Russell, Armed Services chairman, favors the new bombers.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, ranking Republican on Armed Services, gives support to new planes.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, in search of better if not new ways to handle trouble spots like Latin America and Viet Nam, just moves one man in on another without waiting for resignations.

But Fidel Castro's Cuba still seems to baffle him, as it did President John F. Kennedy.

He was President less than a month when he decided to improve on the Latin American policies he inherited from Kennedy. Having decided, he moved suddenly.

He lifted Thomas C. Mann, 51-year-old Texan, from his job as ambassador to Mexico and put him in charge of all Latin American affairs with the title of assistant secretary of state and White House adviser.

Mann thus replaced Edwin M. Martin who thereupon took a few months off before becoming an ambassador in Latin America.

So far there has been no noticeable change in this country's Latin American policy but meanwhile the Panamanians rioted against Americans in the Panama Canal Zone, causing new trouble.

In South Viet Nam, which this country has backed for eight years against the Communist guerrillas of North Viet Nam, the situation seems to be going from bad to worse.

On Dec. 14, the same day Johnson elevated Mann, Roger Hilsman, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, was heard from in a speech which got a lot of attention but contained nothing new.

Although Hilsman's province included Viet Nam, that day he talked of Red China. He said the United States thought its policy of "strength and firmness" would produce changes in China, now full of hostility.

There was another coup in South Viet Nam, another change in government, and the increasingly confident Red guerrillas began assassinating Americans in Saigon.

This more than anything brought home to Americans the realization that, despite all the U.S. aid to South Viet Nam, it was the other side that was making progress. Johnson is very sensitive to public reaction.

This week the State Department announced all matters involving Viet Nam would be placed under William H. Sullivan, acting as special assistant to Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

In addition Sullivan will head a new committee to examine and pull together American policy in Viet Nam. The committee includes senior officers from the State and Defense departments and other agencies.

Tuesday, one day after the announcement about Sullivan,

Hilsman, a key official in the past in developing U.S. policies on Viet Nam, resigned.

Hilsman said his resignation was "not related to policy issues" and the White House said he wanted to return to teaching.

But there is no indication Johnson is going to do anything new about Fidel Castro's Cuba or that there is anything new he can do. Tuesday night Rusk made a speech.

He spoke almost mournfully of the fact that the British and French persist in selling trucks and buses to Castro and he said "there will be no retreat from our policy toward Cuba" so long as it is a threat.

This, like Hilsman's speech on China, wasn't new, either.

Former To Face Jury In Bank Holdup Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—Bernard Curtis McKeliver, 30, an Akron poultry farmer, waived a preliminary hearing when arraigned Tuesday on three counts of bank robbery. He was bound over to the federal grand jury under bond of $30,000, which he was unable to post.

McKeliver is charged with robberies at the Uniontown branch of the Akron Savings & Loan Association on Feb. 3 and Feb. 14 in which the loot amounted to $7,400 and $3,700, respectively, and with the $3,778 holdup of the loan company's Barberton branch Feb. 20.

Hoffa Says Union Aide Telling Lies

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — James R. Hoffa asserted today that every word of testimony against him by the government's chief witness at his jury-tampering trial was "an absolute fabrication."

The Teamsters Union president, taking the stand in his own defense, said he talked with Edward Grady Partin on only two occasions during Hoffa's 1962 conspiracy trial in Nashville.

Partin, a local Teamsters official from Baton Rouge, La.,

was the key prosecution witness on government charges that Hoffa tried to fix the Nashville jury.

Hoffa began testifying at mid-morning on the second day of the sixth week of his trial.

He gave rapid-fire answers to questions from Harry Berke, his Chattanooga lawyer.

He said Partin invited himself to Nashville, just before the 1962 trial, to take care of Partin's personal problems, which Hoffa said were pressing.

"I had been working with Partin for months, trying to get him to straighten out his local and not run around the country," said Hoffa. "He came there (Nashville) primarily to plead that his local not be put under trusteeship. I had no need of Partin."

Originally a tribal group in the rich Red River delta near China, the Vietnamese gradually migrated southward to the fertile Mekong River delta on the tip of Southeast Asia.

"How could it happen," moaned the Paramount man,

"that 'Hud' could score for three performances, best direction and writing and not be named best picture?"

"How come," sniffed a devotee of the cinema art, "such obviously commercial movies as 'Cleopatra' and 'How the West Was Won' got so many nominations?"

"Who says the Academy voters can't be pressured?" snapped a social critic. "Bobby Darin and Nick Adams spent a fortune on trade paper ads—and it paid off with nominations."

So it goes. Each year's nominations bring new reasons for complaints. Oscar-sniping is one of the favorite local sports.

Only anglophiles could be entirely satisfied with the nominees for 1963 awards, which are shaping up as the biggest American rout by the British since the sacking of the White House.

Hollywood is following the trend of the New York theater, which for the past few seasons has relied on English imports for what little eminence it could offer.

Aircraft Firm Delays Move to Michigan

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Officials of Bede Aircraft, Inc., are postponing a decision to move the plant to Muskegon, Mich., pending further news from Gov. James A. Rhodes.

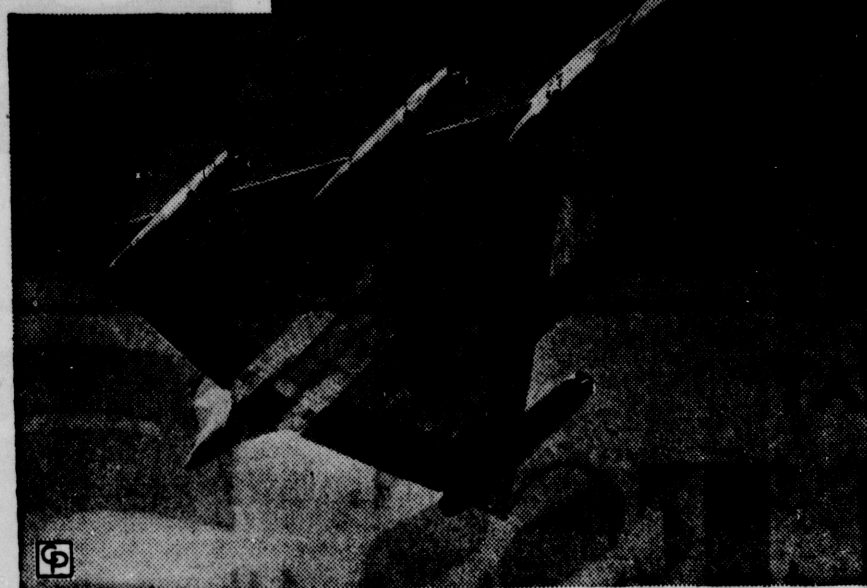

A company spokesman said Tuesday Rhodes has offered to "equal or better" the Muskegon offer and to find a suitable location for the small plane manufacturer. The move apparently was voted recently by the board of directors.

"TUG-OF-DEFENSE"—Here are principals in a "Tug-of-Defense" in Washington over the House-passed $16.9 billion authorization for defense. The bill includes $92 million to get a new bomber and long-range interceptor underway, to be in the air in the 1970s. It appears likely to be passed over Secretary Robert McNamara's objections. He favors missiles.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, in search of better if not new ways to handle trouble spots like Latin America and Viet Nam, just moves one man in on another without waiting for resignations.

But Fidel Castro's Cuba still seems to baffle him. As it did President John F. Kennedy.

He was President less than a month when he decided to improve on the Latin American policies he inherited from Kennedy. Having decided, he moved suddenly.

He lifted Thomas C. Mann, 51-year-old Texan, from his job as ambassador to Mexico and put him in charge of all Latin American affairs with the title of assistant secretary of state and White House adviser.

Mann then replaced Edwin M. Martin who thereupon took a few months off before becoming an ambassador in Latin America.

So far there has been no noticeable change in this country's Latin American policy but meanwhile the Panamanians rioted against Americans in the Panama Canal Zone, causing new trouble.

In South Viet Nam, which this country has backed for eight years against the Communist guerrillas of North Viet Nam, the situation seems to be going from bad to worse.

On Dec. 14, the same day Johnson elevated Mann, Roger Hilsman, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, was heard from in a speech which got a lot of attention but contained nothing new.

Although Hilsman's province included Viet Nam, that day he talked of Red China. He said the United States thought its policy of "strength and firmness" would produce changes in China, now full of hostility.

Shortly afterwards came a change, but not in Red China. There was another coup in South Viet Nam, another change in government, and the increasingly confident Red guerrillas began assassinating Americans in Saigon.

This more than anything brought home to Americans the realization that, despite all the U.S. aid to South Viet Nam, it was the other side that was making progress. Johnson is very sensitive to public reaction.

This week the State Department announced all matters involving Viet Nam would be placed under William H. Sullivan, acting as special assistant to Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

In addition Sullivan will head a new committee to examine and pull together American policy in Viet Nam. The committee includes senior officers from the State and Defense departments and other agencies.

Tuesday, one day after the announcement about Sullivan,

Hilsman, a key official in the past in developing U.S. policies on Viet Nam, resigned.

Hilsman said his resignation was "not related to policy issues" and the White House said he wanted to return to teaching.

But there is no indication Johnson is going to do anything new about Fidel Castro's Cuba or that there is anything new he can do. Tuesday night Rusk made a speech.

He spoke almost mournfully of the fact that the British and French persist in selling trucks and buses to Castro and he said "there will be no retreat from our policy toward Cuba" so long as it is a threat.

This, like Hilsman's speech on China, wasn't new, either.

Former To Face Jury In Bank Holdup Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—Bernard Curtis McKeivier, 30, an Akron poultry farmer, waived a preliminary hearing when arraigned Tuesday on three counts of bank robbery. He was bound over to the federal grand jury under bond of $30,000, which he was unable to post.

McKeivier is charged with robberies at the Uniontown branch of the Akron Savings & Loan Association on Feb. 3 and Feb. 14 in which the loot amounted to $7,400 and $3,700, respectively, and with the $3,778 holdup of the loan company's Barberton branch Feb. 20.

MAKE THEIR OWN AIR—The mice are sealed off from outside air, and breathe oxygen produced by algae. In turn, they supply carbon dioxide to keep the algae alive. It's an apparatus made by 15-year-old John Shirts (right) of Malvern, Pa., for Honeywell's "Science All Stars" TV show March 8. He and U.S. Navy Capt. William R. Anderson, shown inspecting the glass chamber, will discuss this mode of keeping alive in space or undersea, on the show.

Hoffa Says Union Aide Telling Lies

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—James R. Hoffa asserted today that every word of testimony against him by the government's chief witness at his jury-tampering trial was "an absolute fabrication."

The Teamsters Union president, taking the stand in his own defense, said he talked with Edward Grady Partin on only two occasions during Hoffa's 1962 conspiracy trial in Nashville.

Partin, a local Teamsters official from Baton Rouge, La.,

was the key prosecution witness on government charges that Hoffa tried to fix the Nashville jury.

Hoffa began testifying at mid-morning on the second day of the sixth week of his trial.

He gave rapid-fire answers to questions from Harry Berke, his Chattanooga lawyer.

He said Partin invited himself to Nashville, just before the 19 1/2 trial, to take care of Partin's personal problems, which Hoffa said were pressing.

"I had been working with Partin for months, trying to get him to straighten out his local and not run around the country," said Hoffa. "He came there (Nashville) primarily to plead that his local not be put under trusteeship. I had no need of Partin."

Originally a tribal group in the rich Red River delta near China, the Vietnamese gradually migrated southward to the fertile Mekong River delta on the tip of Southeast Asia.

Peale Doubts Film Success

Cleric Displays Negative Thinking

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How's this for negative thinking? Norman Vincent Peale has doubts that his film biography will be a box office success.

Dr. Peale, the Ohio clergyman whose "Power of Positive Thinking" sold 2.5 million hardcover books and a million in paperback, is the subject of a new movie, "One Man's Way."

"I hope it's a success because I think it's a fine picture with a powerful message," he said. "But I would be inclined to doubt it's chances. It doesn't seem to be the kind of film that the public is going for these days."

"Oh, I think you're wrong, dear," said Mrs. Peale more positively. "I think it will be very popular."

If "One Man's Way" doesn't succeed, it won't be because Dr. Peale didn't try to help it. He was here near the end of a 12-city tour with his attractive wife, during which he spoke on behalf of the film.

At an $850,000 cost, the Frank Ross production stands a good chance of paying off. However, it does go against the current trend of film fare, in which sex comedies predominate.

Today's movies, said Dr. Peale, reflect the moral shape America is in.

"Morally, this country is in a tailspin—or perhaps I should say a downward spiral," he said. "It reminds me of France, where men would come up to you in a cafe and try to sell you postcards. Now you can buy such material from any newsstand in this country."

"I used to be appalled at the kind of movies that were made in France. Now we're making the same kind here."

"I see no hope for coming out of this downward spiral until we hit bottom. When that happens, there is only one way we can go—up."

Trouble Spots Can Upset Boom

(Editor's Note — From Wall Street to the defense centers on the West Coast, from the nation's computerized factories to Capitol Hill in Washington, there are potential trouble spots that can upset the hopes for greater prosperity ahead, as Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, points out in this third article in a five-part series on the 1960s.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—There are too many economic problems unsolved to let even the most bullish be really sure that the rest of the 1960s will climb at a faster pace than now.

Some of the very difficulties, that kept the early years of this decade from earning top marks on the economic report card could accelerate:

— The hard core of unemployment. It hasn't been solved. It could grow worse as newcomers to the labor force increase rapidly in the next few years.

— Automation. It has raised the standards of living for many, increased the productivity of the nation's factories and offices, cut the costs of providing goods and services. But many think more mechanization (and fewer jobs per unit of output) lies ahead.

— Stock speculation. It built up a climate in 1961 that helped foster the 1962 stock crash after the government-business clash over steel prices. Many fear that a new speculative wave, nurtured in part by rising stock price indexes, is getting under way and will attract an unsophisticated public.

— Balance of payments deficits. This larger outflow than return of U.S. dollars in foreign transactions has whittled down the United States gold reserves. The short-fall has been trimmed, but not licked.

There are some new problems just taking shape.

The cost of living has never really stopped creeping higher. But prices of goods have been fairly stable so far in the 1960s. And wages have advanced at a pace close to the increase in productivity (the amount of goods turned out per man hour of labor).

This is changing. Productivity has spurred in recent months. With rising sales volume, this has sent corporate profits to record highs.

Added to labor's unrest over the loss of jobs to automation, the rich crop of earnings is tempting union leaders to new demands this year. Detroit is an example. General Motors, Ford, Chrysler, all report record net incomes. Their auto workers are preparing to ask a bigger share — higher wage scales. They also want devices to stretch out the available jobs among more workers.

Labor demands also include a drive to make overtime more expensive to management, a shorter work week, another hike in the legal minimum wage. All could increase the costs of production.

Changing defense programs seem sure to be more of a problem in the period ahead. Rapid switches in Washington planning can upset individual companies and hit communities hard.

Agility may solve the crises while sterring the economy into more production and consumption of civilian goods to take up any slack caused by a letup in defense spending.

Ashtabula County Eyes Oil 'Boom'

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP)—An oil company official says the oil boom in Central Ohio triggered the sudden activity of oil and gas firms which are buying up gas drilling rights in Ashtabula County.

Drilling rights on some 20,000 acres of farmland have been filed in the last week and more are expected, a county official said.

Wendell Knox, manager of the Ferguson Oil Co., Wichita, Kan., says his firm has leased 6,000 acres. He told a reporter the company had drilled three holes in Morrow County without finding oil.

"Maybe we'll have better luck for gas in Ashtabula County,"

Khrush Says Arms Bill Stalls World Utopia

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev says in a preface to a book that if arms spending could stop the planet would be a flourishing garden and the Soviet Union would have the brightest garden of them all.

The preface was written for a book being published in Italy by Giulio Einaudi, Turin publisher, containing the major foreign policy declarations of the Soviet leader.

he remarked, adding that strikes in Morrow County reveal that sub-strata running north have a large gas-producing potential.

The Ken Ark Oil Co., Tulsa, Okla., also has leased about 6,000 acres in Ashtabula County, and the D. T. Norris Co. of Tulsa has filed oil and gas leases on some 8,000 acres.

Views on Television—Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Real life drama beats fiction every time, even when it lacks the proper dramatic form.

Far and away the most exciting television program Tuesday and of many a day before that was NBC's dogged three-hour coverage of what it called "The Bobby Baker Hearing."

For more than two hours the cameras were focused stoically on the upper half of what looked like a pair of varnished oak doors and a discreet sign that said "Caucus Room." All the while our television sets functioned merely as radio eavesdroppers on the provocative questions and droning answers being fired inside.

Both CBS and NBC had planned to provide live coverage of the Senate Rules Committee public hearing on activities of Bobby Baker, former secretary to the Senate majority.

After a long and confusing argument, the committee chairman reluctantly — or so it seemed to the home viewers — ordered the television cameras out of the chamber after an informal committee vote. Then, almost like an afterthought, he excluded film and still cameras. That still left NBC's sound equipment functioning.

CBS abandoned its live television coverage. Its plans to switch to radio coverage was dashed temporarily when somebody pulled out its electrical connection by mistake. NBC simply kept its cameras on the outer portals and fed us the sounds.

All three networks immediately fired off telegrams to the committee chairman protesting the exclusion of television cameras.

From the viewer's vantage point, it probably was more interesting the way things worked out. Still it was nothing like the exciting days of the Army-McCarthy hearings or the earlier Kefauver hearings. A pair of closed doors were not as effective as those shots of Frank Costello's nervous hands taken when television cameramen were not allowed to show his face.

NBC has made another multi-million-dollar deal for a batch of feature films, some as recent as 1960, from MGM. They will be used next season, mixed in with films recently acquired from Paramount, on the network's Wednesday and Saturday night feature movie shows.

Recommended tonight: "Dannay Kaye Show," CBS, 10-11 p.m. EST, with Buddy "Beverly Hillbillies" Ebsen and Howard Morris as guest stars.

Oil Scandal In Ohio Hinted

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP) — A national scandal in Ohio? Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall claims one exists in the failure to apply conservation control to the Buckeye State's Morrow County oil boom.

Udall told newsmen here Monday he had not received a reply from Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes to a letter the secretary sent last week protesting the lack of conservation measures.

Udall, here for a Democratic Party meeting, conceded that the Republican governor has been cooperative. The cabinet official also noted that some steps have been taken by the Ohio Legislature but said he considers these steps inadequate.

No Mercy Granted Convicted Slay

CINCINNATI (AP) — Elmer Glenn Miller, 47, has been found guilty of first-degree murder for his part in the fatal beating of a 76-year-old woman during a robbery in her home.

A Common Pleas Court jury of seven men and five women did not recommend mercy for Miller, the last of three defendants in the case, and he must be sentenced to die in the electric chair. The jury deliberated about seven hours Tuesday.

Trouble Spots Can Upset Boom

(Editor's Note — From Wall Street to the defense centers on the West Coast, from the nation's computerized factories to Capitol Hill in Washington, there are potential trouble spots that can upset the hopes for greater prosperity ahead, as Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, points out in this third article in a five-part series on the 1960s.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—There are too many economic problems unsolved to let even the most bullish be really sure that the rest of the 1960s will climb at a faster pace than now.

Some of the very difficulties that kept the early years of this decade from earning top marks on the economic report card could accelerate:

— The hard core of unemployment. It hasn't been solved. It could grow worse as newcomers to the labor force increase rapidly in the next few years.

— Automation. It has raised the standards of living for many, increased the productivity of the nation's factories and offices, cut the costs of providing goods and services. But many think more mechanization (and fewer jobs per unit of output) lies ahead.

— Stock speculation. It built up a climate in 1961 that helped foster the 1962 stock crash after the government-business clash over steel prices. Many fear that a new speculative wave, nurtured in part by rising stock price indexes, is getting under way and will attract an unsophisticated public.

— Balance of payments deficits. This larger outflow than return of U.S. dollars in foreign transactions has whittled down the United States gold reserves. The short-fall has been trimmed, but not licked.

There are some new problems just taking shape.

The cost of living has never really stopped creeping higher. But prices of goods have been fairly stable so far in the 1960s. And wages have advanced at a pace close to the increase in productivity (the amount of goods turned out per man hour of labor).

This is changing. Productivity has spurred in recent months. With rising sales volume, this has sent corporate profits to record highs.

Added to labor's unrest over the loss of jobs to automation, the rich crop of earnings is tempting union leaders to new demands this year. Detroit is an example. General Motors, Ford, Chrysler, all report record net incomes. Their auto workers are preparing to ask a bigger share — higher wage scales. They also want devices to stretch out the available jobs among more workers.

Labor demands also include a drive to make overtime more expensive to management, a shorter work week, another hike in the legal minimum wage. All could increase the costs of production.

Changing defense programs seem sure to be more of a problem in the period ahead. Rapid switches in Washington planning can upset individual companies and hit communities hard.

Agility may solve the crises while sterring the economy into more production and consumption of civilian goods to take up any slack caused by a letup in defense spending.

Ashtabula County Eyes Oil 'Boom'

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP)—An oil company official says the oil boom in Central Ohio triggered the sudden activity of oil and gas firms which are buying up gas drilling rights in Ashtabula County.

Drilling rights on some 20,000 acres of farmland have been filed in the last week and more are expected, a county official said.

Wendell Knox, manager of the Ferguson Oil Co., Wichita, Kan., says his firm has leased 6,000 acres. He told a reporter the company had drilled three holes in Morrow County without finding oil.

"Maybe we'll have better luck for gas in Ashtabula County,"

Khrush Says Arms Bill Stalls World Utopia

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev says in a preface to a book that if arms spending could stop the planet would be a flourishing garden and the Soviet Union would have the brightest garden of them all.

The preface was written for a book being published in Italy by Giulio Einaudi, Turin publisher, containing the major foreign policy declarations of the Soviet leader.

he remarked, adding that strikes in Morrow County reveal that substatata running north have a large gas-producing potential.

The Ken Ark Oil Co., Tulsa, Okla., also has leased about 6,000 acres in Ashtabula County, and the D. T. Norris Co. of Tulsa has filed oil and gas leases on some 8,000 acres.

Views on Television—Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Real life drama beats fiction every time, even when it lacks the proper dramatic form.

Far and away the most exciting television program Tuesday and of many a day before that was NBC's dogged three-hour coverage of what it called "The Bobby Baker Hearing."

For more than two hours the cameras were focused stoically on the upper half of what looked like a pair of varnished oak doors and a discreet sign that said "Caucus Room." All the while our television sets functioned merely as radio eavesdroppers on the provocative questions and droning answers being fired inside.

Both CBS and NBC had planned to provide live coverage of the Senate Rules Committee public hearing on activities of Bobby Baker, former secretary to the Senate majority.

After a long and confusing argument, the committee chairman reluctantly — or so it seemed to the home viewers — ordered the television cameras out of the chamber after an informal committee vote. Then, almost like an afterthought, he excluded film and still cameras. That still left NBC's sound equipment functioning.

CBS abandoned its live television coverage. Its plans to switch to radio coverage was dashed temporarily when somebody pulled out its electrical connection by mistake. NBC simply kept its cameras on the outer portals and fed us the sounds.

All three networks immediately fired off telegrams to the committee chairman protesting the exclusion of television cameras.

From the viewer's vantage point, it probably was more interesting the way things worked out. Still it was nothing like the exciting days of the Army-McCarthy hearings or the earlier Kefauver hearings. A pair of closed doors were not as effective as those shots of Frank Costello's nervous hands taken when television cameramen were not allowed to show his face.

NBC has made another multi-million-dollar deal for a batch of feature films, some as recent as 1960, from MGM. They will be used next season, mixed in with films recently acquired from Paramount, on the network's Wednesday and Saturday night feature movie shows.

Recommended tonight: "Danny Kaye Show," CBS, 10-11 p.m. EST, with Buddy "Beverly Hillbillies" Ebsen and Howard Morris as guest stars.

Oil Scandal In Ohio Hinted

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP) — A national scandal in Ohio? Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall claims one exists in the failure to apply conservation control to the Buckeye State's Morrow County oil boom.

Udall told newsmen here Monday he had not received a reply from Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes to a letter the secretary sent last week protesting the lack of conservation measures.

Udall, here for a Democratic Party meeting, conceded that the Republican governor has been cooperative. The cabinet official also noted that some steps have been taken by the Ohio Legislature but said he considers these steps inadequate.

No Mercy Granted Convicted Slayer

CINCINNATI (AP) — Elmer Glenn Miller, 47, has been found guilty of first-degree murder for his part in the fatal beating of a 76-year-old woman during a robbery in her home.

A Common Pleas Court jury of seven men and five women did not recommend mercy for Miller, the last of three defendants in the case, and he must be sentenced to die in the electric chair. The jury deliberated about seven hours Tuesday.

Computers Set To Balk at Overspending

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State-owned computers have been set to balk when department heads overspend their appropriations.

"It is sort of like 'tilt' on pin-ball machines," Finance Director Richard Krabach said with a grin.

"The big machines just won't work when bills and expenditures are entered if the total exceeds predetermined amounts," he explained.

Krabach described the system as another administration effort to realize about $51 million a year in savings recommended in the Little Hoover Commission survey by management experts "loaned" to the state by industry.

Although various department heads have reported savings already, the first actual expenditure limitation was fed into a computer this week.

It resulted in a reduction of $82,116 available to the Agriculture Department headed by John M. Stackhouse. His annual appropriation was $1,737,000. Most appropriations have quarterly spending limits.

The amount saved represents the reduction in operating expenditures by Stackhouse during the last half of 1963. He looks for further savings by the end of the bookkeeping year next June 30.

Savings now will be fed into computers so that the money can't be spent unless department heads receive emergency approval, he said.

"The result will be actual hard savings," the finance chief asserted.

Stackhouse was the first to submit a report on savings resulting from commission recommendations and the first to get a review by the Finance Department.

Other department reports are under review by Charles Auer, head of the Finance Department's management division. More will follow until all are in.

The commission said Stackhouse could save about $140,000 by reorganizing his department into three divisions—laboratory, regulatory and administrative. Some legislative action would be required for full effect.

Auer's preliminary analysis said action on the laboratory division was about one-third finished. He said bacteriological and toxicological operations have been combined and some instruments moved to permit joint use.

Efforts also are under way to group similar professional personnel together as well as some technical operations, the report showed.

Although the commission suggested transfer of offices in the State Office Building to the suburban Reynoldsburg laboratory, Stackhouse said he felt closer contact with the governor's office and the public here was desirable.

He said records could be moved to the laboratory, however.

Other efforts listed included: —Centralized licensing activities and business operations.

—Supervisory training programs in animal industry areas with a target date of July 1.

—Adoption by March 15 of a policy on professional services, some of which may be discontinued.

—Further curtailment of publications and action to make inspection fees cover costs.

—Plans to end distribution of State Fair Youth Day tickets to be discussed with the Ohio Expositions Commission at its April 20 meeting.

But the report expressed opposition to a proposal for ending brucellosis testing of cattle and hogs.

"The current testing program cannot be abandoned," Auer said. He noted that millions have been spent to bring the disease under control.

"The state now has seven counties to test to obtain federal certification for interstate shipments," he said.

"A new program is being developed which will result in less testing of beef cattle in the field."

Stackhouse described his savings objective as "the use of resources through management to the best advantage."

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A new kind of "flip-top" ship may frighten unwary mariners cruising off the coast of California this year. The 355-foot steel vessel has the ability to stand on its stern, with only 55 feet showing above water — all in the interests of ocean research, according to "Steel Facts," published by American Iron and Steel Institute.

The old vessel has special pumps which fill ballast tanks and cause the stern to shift downward, thus permitting sonar equipment to better study underwater conditions. The University of California is conducting the research.

Many parents were on hand Sunday for the Girl Scout Thinking Day Program in the Ashville Elementary School Auditorium. The pageant, an interesting highlight of the program, showed how a girl scout can benefit her home and community.

Opening the program was the flag ceremony, with the presentation of Colors, the Pledge of Allegiance, and singing of America, the Beautiful. The Girl Scouts sang, "O Beautiful Banner."

Readers for the pageant were Patsy Welsh and Joyce Miller. The chorus was under the direction of Mrs. Chet Peters, accompanied by Mrs. Archie Stewart. Several brothers and sisters of the girls were present for one of the scenes.

The pageant, titled "Girl Scouts Also Serve," was planned by the Juliette Low Representative, Mrs. James Irwin.

Mrs. Hewitt Cromley, district chairman, presented numerous guards to women who have worked in Girl Scouting. Receiving five year guards were Mrs. Tom Purcell, Mrs. Philip Roby and Mrs. Joe Vause. She presented a 10-year guard to Mrs. William Trimble and Mrs. Cleve Hickman. Mrs. John Sabine, neighborhood chairman, in turn presented Mrs. Cromley with a 15-year guard.

Mrs. Sabine introduced leaders of each troop to the group. They are: Brownie Troop 1384, Mrs. Bonnie Anderson; Brownie Troop 1389, Mrs. Judy Tussing and Mrs. Mona Morrison; Junior Leaders, Troop 730, Mrs. Virginia Irwin and Mrs. Rebecca Tosca; Troop 238, Mrs. Clara Lou Stewart and Mrs. Carolyn Peters; Troop 253, Mrs. Velma Purcell and Mrs. Judy Welsh. Cadettes — Troop 321, Mrs. Norma Jean Roby and Mrs. Maureen Brewer; Troop 647, Mrs. Carol Younk and Mrs. Jeanne Wilson; and Senior Leaders, Troop 772, Mrs. Virgie Vause and Mrs. Peg Trimble.

Following the program refreshments were served from a beautifully decorated buffet table, centered with a yellow centerpiece. Troop 321 was in charge of refreshments.

Teays Valley Youth Baseball League officials will meet at the Ashville Council House 7:30 p. m. Feb. 27. Final plans for the coming season will be made. Those interested in helping may attend. A candy sale, similar to the one held last year, will be discussed. Registration of players will take place at the Teays Valley High School Gym April 2. Registration forms will be available from school teachers.

Guest speaker for the evening was Lt. Governor Ed Gearhart when the Ashville Kiwanis Club met Feb. 18 at the Bastian Coffee Shop.

Gearhart presented six men with awards for sponsoring a new member in the past six months. Honorees were Benis Lutz, Gene Tosca, Don Collins, Dayton Sheets, C. D. Bennett and C. D. Kraft.

Honored guest for the Feb. 25 dinner meeting will be Richard Petty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Petty, who will receive the Eagle Scout Award. Dr. Starr will be the speaker for this high point in Richard's Scouting career.

Members delinquent in turning in their fruit cake money are requested to do so as soon as possible. It was announced that the erection of the Kiwanis Road Sign has been placed on the Community Club fence west of town.

Mrs. Mary Conrad, of Columbus will be hostess to the Club for the March meeting at the Southern Hotel.

Several persons in the community are enjoying Florida sunshine and a rest for several weeks. Returning this past week after a two weeks stay were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Trego. Due to return home soon will be Dr. R. S. Hosler and Howard Younk, Attorney and Mrs. Harry Margulis and Mrs. Helen Hedges.

The Ashville PTA met Thursday evening in the school auditorium. Ashville Girl Scout Troop 730 opened the meeting with the presentation of colors, followed with the Pledge of Allegiance. The Rev. Arthur Fultz, pastor of the Church of Christ in Christian Union, read scripture from the 90th Psalm, followed with a brief meditation and prayer.

The organization voted to sponsor a girl to Buckeye Girl's State and a boy to Buckeye Boy's State. Ed Irwin, School principal, reported that the eye testing program has been completed in the school. Mothers helping were Mrs. Art Deal, Mrs. Gene Tosca, Mrs. Chet Peters and Mrs. Archie Stewart.

The Circleville Lion's Club previously had given eye exams to 4th, 6th and 8th grade students and other pupils who teachers thought needed immediate attention. Fifty-nine have been referred to an eye doctor by Mrs. Pickens, County Health Nurse.

Grade 4 won the roll call with the most parents in attendance. William Pangburn reviewed the solo and ensemble contest to be held on the following

Saturday at the school. He extended an invitation to all to attend all or part of the all-day activities.

Mrs. Felix Dore, president, appointed Mrs. Charles Morrison, Mrs. Robert Glick and Mrs. Harold Peters to serve on a project committee to study school needs. The PTA organization could help support. They are to report at a later meeting. She announced that the March meeting will be "Open House" with all rooms open to the public.

The program for the evening was "Know Your Base". Efforts were made to obtain a speaker from Lockbourne Air Force Base to explain functions of the base and its importance, but was not possible due to uncertain circumstances. A team of men from the base did present a Judo demonstration.

It was explained to the audience that Ju means "gentle" and do means "ways". It was started in 1882 in Japan. Judo is to be known as a sport and not to be used for protection or killing. It is an art that never can be mastered.

The Air Force now sends men to Japan, 8 to 10 weeks each year, to better learn the arts of Judo.

Mrs. Janet Sturgill will enter Chillicothe Hospital Feb. 26 to undergo surgery. In charge of her Beauty Shop will be Van Buskirk of Circleville.

According to the flight schedule, Rev. and Mrs. John Morgan arrived in Beirut Saturday. Monday they will leave for the one hour flight to Jerusalem. During the rest of this week, they will be touring Jerusalem and Tel Aviv. Next Sunday they will depart for Athens.

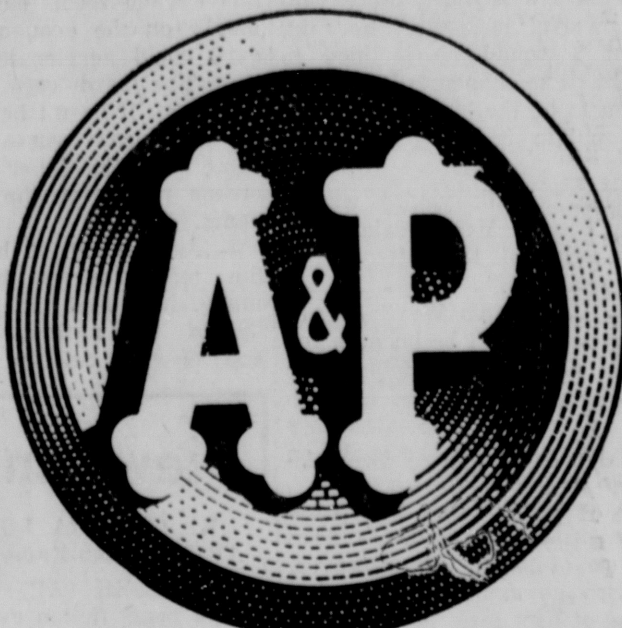

Rev. and Mrs. Morgan will arrive in Columbus on Mar. 5 at approximately 8:25 p. m. A welcoming party is being planned. In the pulpit last Sunday was Benis Lutz. On Mar. 1, the Rev. Amos Sweet will serve as the guest minister.

The Teays Valley Athletic Boosters will sponsor a card party Saturday in the Ashville School auditorium beginning 8 p. m.

Mrs. Mary Conrad, of Columbus will be hostess to the Club for the March meeting at the Southern Hotel.

Several persons in the community are enjoying Florida sunshine and a rest for several weeks. Returning this past week after a two weeks stay were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Trego. Due to return home soon will be Dr. R. S. Hosler and Howard Younkin, Attorney and Mrs. Harry Margulis and Mrs. Helen Hedges.

The Ashville PTA met Thursday evening in the school auditorium. Ashville Girl Scout Troop 730 opened the meeting with the presentation of colors, followed with the Pledge of Allegiance. The Rev. Arthur Fultz, pastor of the Church of Christ in Christian Union, read scripture from the 90th Psalm, followed with a brief meditation and prayer.

The organization voted to sponsor a girl to Buckeye Girl's State and a boy to Buckeye Boy's State. Ed Irwin, School principal, reported that the eye testing program has been completed in the school. Mothers helping were Mrs. Art Deal, Mrs. Gene Tosca, Mrs. Chet Peters and Mrs. Archie Stewart.

The Circleville Lion's Club previously had given eye exams to 4th, 6th and 8th grade students and other pupils who teachers thought needed immediate attention. Fifty-nine have been referred to an eye doctor by Mrs. Pickens, County Health Nurse.

Grade 4 won the roll call with the most parents in attendance. William Pangburn reviewed the solo and ensemble contest to be held on the following

Saturday at the school. He extended an invitation to all to attend all or part of the all-day activities.

Mrs. Felix Dore, president, appointed Mrs. Charles Morrison, Mrs. Robert Glick and Mrs. Harold Peters to serve on a project committee to study school needs the PTA organization could help support. They are to report at a later meeting. She announced that the March meeting will be "Open House" with all rooms open to the public.

The program for the evening was "Know Your Base". Efforts were made to obtain a speaker from Lockbourne Air Force Base to explain functions of the base and its importance, but was not possible due to uncertain circumstances. A team of men from the base did present a Judo demonstration.

It was explained to the audience that Ju means "gentle" and do means "ways". It was started in 1882 in Japan. Judo is to be known as a sport and not to be used for protection or killing. It is an art that never can be mastered.

The Air Force now sends men to Japan, 8 to 10 weeks each year, to better learn the arts of Judo.

Mrs. Janet Sturgill will enter Chillicothe Hospital Feb. 26 to undergo surgery. In charge of her Beauty Shop will be Van Buskirk of Circleville.

According to the flight schedule, Rev. and Mrs. John Morgan arrived in Beirut Saturday. Monday they will leave for the one hour flight to Jerusalem. During the rest of this week, they will be touring Jerusalem and Tel Aviv. Next Sunday they will depart for Athens.

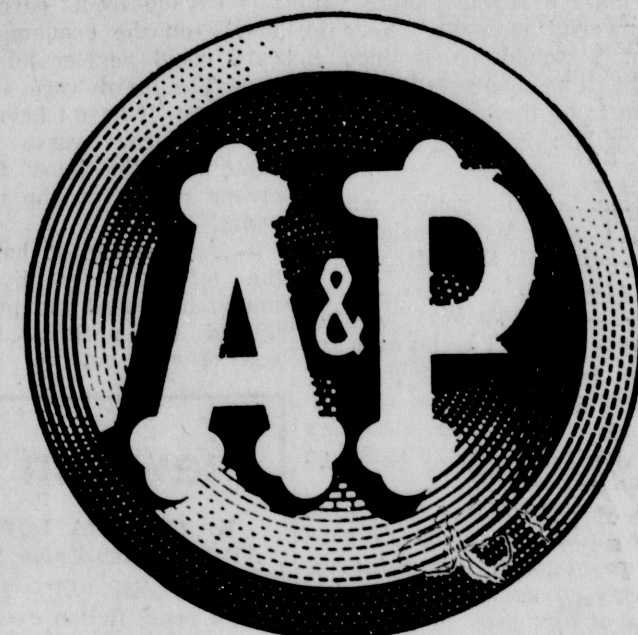

Rev. and Mrs. Morgan will arrive in Columbus on Mar. 5 at approximately 8:25 p. m. A welcoming party is being planned. In the pulpit last Sunday was Benis Lutz. On Mar. 1, the Rev. Amos Sweet will serve as the guest minister.

The Teays Valley Athletic Boosters will sponsor a card party Saturday in the Ashville School auditorium beginning 8 p. m.

Boxing World Buzzes About Clay's Victory

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Cassius Clay, the fascinating Louisville blowhard who proved his fists talk as loud as his words is the new king of the heavyweights and the boxing world still buzzed today over the bizarre events that led to the dethronement of the champion who couldn't lose, Sonny Liston.

The bull-strong, tiger-mean Liston yielded his crown while slumped ingloriously in his corner between the sixth and seventh rounds, blood gushing from a gash under his left eye and his left shoulder in severe pain.

It went into the books as a seventh round technical knockout—one of the most astounding ring upsets of all time but one that left the millions of fans pondering unanswered questions.

How did it happen? When did it happen? Why didn't Liston, the awesome ring killer, demolish the loquacious Kentuckian as he had done to his other rivals in the last three years?

Liston was rushed to the St. Francis Hospital where eight physicians subjected him to a 3½ hour series of X-rays and other examinations.

The group issued a statement which said the champion had suffered an injury of the left shoulder which prevented him from defending himself.

The statement said there was a "separation and a tear of muscle fibers" with some bleeding, but gave no other details.

Liston, dressed in a red shirt and slacks, pushed his way out of the hospital without comment. His aides said he planned to go to his Miami Beach temporary home and would make no statement immediately.

His purse from the gate attendance had been ordered held up by the Miami Beach Boxing Commission pending outcome of the doctors' examination.

Jack Nilon, the ex-champion's adviser, said Liston wrenched his shoulder in training but that the two of them decided to try to bluff their way through "because we thought we could get away with it."

Nilon pointed out that Liston stopped boxing six days before the fight but others recalled that Sonny showed no signs of an ailment in other phases of training and even declared himself "in the best shape ever."

This was just one of the many contradictory aspects of the bout, which was a financial flop at the gate with 8,000 paying only $400,000 for the privilege of watching—half of the figure needed to break even.

Clay, the exultant, hysterical and almost berserk new champion, himself sought to erase any stigma from his spectacular victory even before any had been officially cast.

Unsettled by the ringing boos that rocked the arena, he screamed to all within earshot.

"This was no fix. I closed both of my eyes. He didn't touch me. I didn't stop the fight. The doctors did."

Seasoned boxing writers, accustomed to all sorts of weird occurrences in this sometimes sordid sport, were seeking answers to questions which they said left them befuddled.

Why wasn't Liston, the sullen destroyer who twice put away former champion Floyd Patterson in the first round, able to unleash the same devastating punching power on the fast but supposedly vulnerable Clay?

In the fifth round, when Clay came out at the bell blinking and groping his way around the ring, as if half-blinded, why wasn't the despoised champion able to nail him with his fistful of dynamite?

Even if his shoulder was painful, why didn't Liston, a brute of a man, try to bull his way through, waiting for perhaps a lucky punch, against a fighter renowned as a powder-puff hitter?

Doesn't this amazing development set the stage for a return bout, which might set financial records yet undreamed of in the sport?

The San Francisco Giants had losing streaks of seven, six and five games last season.

I TOLD YOU SO — Cassius Clay scored a seventh round technical knockout over Sonny Liston last night to back up his frequently made statement, "I am the greatest." He was declared the new world's heavyweight champion when Liston failed to come out to start the seventh round.

Applause Is Now Greeting Shout of 'I'm Greatest'

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — For maybe the millionth time, he opened his mouth wide and screamed, "I am the greatest," but now no good-natured guffaws came back at Cassius Clay—only applause.

The Louisville Lip, who had been regarded by many as more of a comedian than a fighter, had just pulled one of the most stunning ring upsets of all time by stopping Sonny Liston, the brutish heavyweight champion, on a seventh round technical knockout.

And the handsome Clay was hysterical with excitement as he walked into an interview room to talk with newsmen. Most of them had picked Liston to knock out the young challenger in an early round. Some even called the match a hoax.

"I just played with him," Clay bellowed, and this time his words were not those of a ballyhoo artist, but a real champ.

He seemed close to tears of joy.

He belittled the ex-champ who, until Tuesday, had been considered one of the most terrifying fighters ever to climb into a ring.

"That ugly old bear never got in a good lick," laughed Clay, a seemingly hopeless underdog who had befuddled the ominous Liston with his dancing ring style, drained him of his confidence, and beat him four rounds out of six before Liston quit with a shoulder injury.

"If he wants a rematch, he can have it, but I don't think he's gonna want it."

"He was such an amateur he ought to have to work his way back up. I want Doug Jones and Eddie Machen."

From the ring where he scored his remarkable triumph, boxing's wonder boy went directly to his dressing room for a wild, tearful greeting by members of his family and his associates. When the bedlam quieted, he went to meet reporters in his ring robe.

Still shaken with emotion, Clay called out:

"Look at me! I'm still pretty! But Liston's face is burning. I hurt him so bad he had to go to a hospital."

Efforts were made to ask him questions, but it was impossible to get a word in as he jabbered on.

"You reporters made it hard on me," he cried. "Never make me an underdog. Nobody but a fool would want to fight me."

"And you can't call it a fix," he added. "I didn't stop it. The doctor did."

"Who is the greatest?" he called. After the question had been repeated three times, some newsmen chimed in to his satisfaction, "you are!"

Several times, Clay walked away from the microphone, but he kept coming back, wanting to get some more steam out of his system.

He hooted at a Miami Beach Boxing Commission doctor's report that he was "scared to death" when he put on a frantic show at the weigh-in.

"I wasn't scared," he shouted. He didn't need to say this to newsmen who had seen him look straight into Liston's cobra-

Title Fight TV Chalks Records

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Nate Halpern, president of Theatre Network Television, said the closed circuit television attendance for Tuesday night's Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston fight set new records by substantial margins.

He said no accurate figures would be available for several days until all outlets had been checked.

The best previous attendance was 560,000 in theaters and arenas for the first Liston-Floyd Patterson fight in Chicago Sept. 25, 1962. The television receipts were $3,320,000.

CHS Matmen Edge Gales In Dual Meet

Circleville High School wrestlers edged the Gales of Lancaster, 22-21, yesterday in the final dual meet of the season for the Tigers.

Going into the last match the Tigers were actually trailing, 21-17, and needed the five points provided by Howard Fletcher's pin of Dave Clayton to win.

Lancaster is a strong team for a first year program, according to Dave LaBounty, Tiger Wrestling mentor, he also noted the team was young, with only one senior.

Tiger grapplers Craig Benzenberg and Pedro Kuhn were decided in the first two matches of the meet.

THEN Charlie Martin came back to win the 120-pound class, but Circleville had no contestant in the 127-class and lost five valuable points.

Tom McDonald and Glenn Easterday won decisions in their respective bouts before Bill Deihl came up with an all-important pin to pick up five points.

Joe List won by a decision and then Mick Tomlinson and Mike Wells were pinned to put Circleville down by four as the heavyweight contest started.

Fletcher, who has a 13-1 record for the season, was seeded in the sectional wrestling tournaments slated to begin 7 p. m. Friday at Whitehall High School.

Deers, Braves To Represent County in Tournament Play

The finals in the Class A sectional tournament are scheduled this weekend with Logan Elm facing Berne Union at 8 p. m. Friday and Williamsport battling Lancaster Bishop Fenwick Saturday at the same time.

The Braves and Deers were the two seeded teams in the tourney. Neither unit had much difficulty in defeating first opponents last Saturday afternoon.

However, the Fairfield County entries in both brackets have proven their strength in two tournament tests.

Berne Union, now 11-8 for the season, downed Monroe in the first game of the tournament, and then came back the next night to defeat Jackson Twp.

FENWICK had little difficulty defeating Amanda - Clearcreek, but had to fight for its life in edging The Plains of Mt. Sterling by a three - point margin.

All four teams feature balanced attacks. Berne Union and Logan Elm both rely largely on man to man defenses and controlled offenses.

The leading scorer for the Rockets in tourney play has been Ken Staten, a sure shooting guard. Against Jackson he tallied 17 points, 15 of them in the first half. In defeating Monroe, he came up with a 15-point effort.

Mac McGrew is a strong pivot man who has helped the Berne Union quintet control the boards in both of their games. He has scored 28 points in the two tournament games.

Red Groves is the third leading scorer on the team with 23 markers in tournament play. He is also an aid to McGrew on the boards.

Logan Elm is one of the two defending champions of the sectional.

A NEW champion was assured in the lower bracket of the tourney before the drawing when Canal Winchester was moved to the Otterbein sectional.

And again two similar attacks should be evident when the Deers and the Irish clash Saturday.

Both Fenwick and Williamsport will utilize the fast break if given the advantage, although both can play a controlled offense if needed.

On defense, the Deers will frequently go into a full court press, even in the early stages of the game. The Fenwick eagles tend to play a slightly more conservative defensive style.

The leading scorer for the Irish is their center, Joe King. In the Fairfield County League, he finished third in the final standings.

Winners of the sectional will move on to District play, scheduled to start Mar. 4 in the State Fairgrounds Coliseum at Columbus.

Ailing Redleg Manager Just Glad To Be Around

ANNA MARIA, Fla. (AP) — The Big Bear laughed. Yes, spring training is something special for him this year.

Fred Hutchinson, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, is "just glad to be around."

Hutchinson, 44, has just returned to his Anna Maria home from Seattle where he fought and very likely won a battle with cancer.

When his Reds open spring practice in Tampa Sunday, Hutch will be there.

At casual glance, it will be like it always has been with Hutch.

But there's something different.

"I'm anxious to get there," he said. "I'm just glad to be around."

The voice was distinctly Hutchinson's as you know it, except maybe it was slightly more course than usual. Hutch laughed about that, too. He has to take it easy now, he said.

Hutchinson first observed discomfort in his chest area in December. He thought, then, it might have been nerves resulting from the National League race.

Examination showed it was cancer.

What did you think when you're told you have cancer?

"When they tell you, you say, well, what is it, I've got it," he said.

Then with typical Hutchinson courage, he added:

"I've never felt that I couldn't get over it."

"I'm fine. The only thing I have to do is be careful what I do. I can't overdo things. The next two or three months are very important to me. I can't fatigue myself. I can't upset myself."

Doctors at Seattle are optimistic, though success of the treatments has not been determined.

Hutchinson will have periodic checkups. X-Rays will be made in Tampa in March and sent to Seattle for study.

Hutchinson may have to lean more heavily on his coaches, but he says they do "the majority of the work anyway."

Game Warden's Music Charms Wild Beasts

KAYCEE, Wyo. (AP)—Game Warden William Eversole uses music to charm the beast—then he shoots it.

With a record player and speakers hidden in the bushes, Eversole plays the sound of a rabbit to lure bobcats and coyotes and the cries of quail to get fox.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Ray Westenberg, who passed away Feb. 26, 1962.
Two sad years have passed, dear one since you were so suddenly cal-

every way as time goes on.
When twilight hours draw near and the sunset flames the sky, our broken hearts ache with pain.
Your sweet memory will always cherish, and some day beyond the sunset, we will see your smiling face again.
So sadly missed by Dad, Mother, and Sisters, Martha and Margie.

34 Local Firms Scheduled To Take Part in B-I-E Day

Participating in Business-Industry-Education Day activities here Mar. 13 will be 34 firms and professional groups, according to the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce committee directing the event.

Representing the educational portion of the program will be approximately 330 teachers from the city and county. The educators have been assigned to the 34 business firms and plants where they will be guests for the day. All schools in the city and county will be closed for the day.

The special Chamber of Commerce sponsored program is designed to serve as a major step in helping teachers and business people better understand each other's contributions to community progress. A specific aim is to show America's free enterprise system in action.

Firms taking part in the project are:

BARNHILL Cleaners Beaver Studio, Bingman Drugs, Brehmer Greenhouse, L. M. Butch Jewelers, City Loan & Savings, the Children's Shop, Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc.

Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co., Container Corporation of America, Croman's Hatchery, Defenbaugh Funeral Home, DuPont plant, First National Bank, General Electric plant, General Telephone Co.

The Circleville Herald, Lincoln Molded Plastics plant, Bob Litter Fuel and Heating, Mac's Tire & Appliances, the local Medical Profession, Moore's Store, G. C. Murphy Store, Pickaway Dairy.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass plant, J. C. Penney Store, Porter's Laundry, Radcliffe Cleaners, Ralston Purina plant, Risch Drugs, Second National Bank, J. Boyd Stout Builders, Yates Motor Co. and local Insurance Agents.

Members of the BIE committee met noon yesterday at Tink's Tavern for continued discussion on planning phases. The panel currently is tabulating questionnaires that have been returned by teachers. This evaluation will play an important role on the actual day of the program.

The BIE Day schedule calls for teachers and most firm representatives to meet at Circleville High School 8:30 a. m. Mar. 13 for a brief assembly period. Parking in the area and a proper seating plan were discussed at yesterday's committee session.

Individual identification tags will be distributed and guides will be on hand to direct teachers to their assigned areas in the CHS Auditorium. The educators will be requested to keep their coats and hats with them during the short assembly period.

A third briefing session for participating firms has been scheduled for 7:30 a. m. Mar. 5 at Nicholas Drive Elementary School. Members of L. D. Varble's BIE Committee will meet at noon Mar. 4 at Tink's to iron out last minute details prior to the briefing set for the next day.
